SCHINAGLE GIVEN LIFE TERM IN PRISON

DICKENSON LEAVES REDS. Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson, 21-year-old Virginia farm boy, smiles as he walks toward the exchange point at Panmunjom to be turned over to the United Nations command after turning his back on a life among Communists. He was one of 23 American prisoners of war who refused to be repatriated, but he changed his mind Oct. 21 in favor of returning to his home at Big Stone Gap, Va. With him is Col. Ujjal Singh of the Indian custodial troops.

Agricultural Policies Hit By Democrats

Opposition Claims Eisenhower Hedged On Farm Promises

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) today challenged President Eisenhower's assertion that he never promised during the 1952 presidential campaign to support 100 per cent parity price supports for major crops.

"At Kasson, Minn last year the President promised it least 90 per cent parity and as soon as possible full parity," Mansfield declared. "If he now denies the import of that promise, he knows as little about the farm problem now as he did then."

Thinks Farmers Disturbed

Sen. George (D-Ga) said in a separate interview he believes farmers generally are "greatly disturbed" by price declines and "feel now that the Republicans have been in power too long."

These and other Democratic blasts came as Eisenhower summoned his 16-member Agriculture Advisory Commission to the White House and a caravan of cattlemen —some 250 strong—made its way toward Washington.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who spent nearly four hours in White House conferences yesterday, appealed to the caravan to halt its march. But President James G Patton of the Farmers Union, which organized the bus procession, replied that it was too late.

Retains Parity Principle

Benson, emerging from his talks with Eisenhower, told newsmen the administration will evolve a program including the principle of parity—a price calculated by law to be equally fair to farmers and consumers in relations to the prices farmers must pay.

The Advisory Committee, named in July, had been meeting behind closed doors in Washington for two days before being called to the White House to report on its progress. The idea behind the conference is to put together a new farm program for presentation to Congress next January.

Benson said after luncheon with the President yesterday:

"We are not planning to wreck the present program. We are going to have some recommendations for improvements in the present program."

Surprise Filing Of Guilty Plea Winds Up Case

UPPER SANDUSKY—In a surprise move this morning, Roy Roger Schinagle, 19-year-old Mayfield Heights youth, entered a plea of guilty to a second-degree murder charge in the brutal slaying Sept. 18 of 19-year-old Cynthia Pfeil. He was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Ohio State Penitentiary by Wyandot County Common Pleas Judge Russell H. Kear.

The Ohio Wesleyan University student was indicted Tuesday by the grand jury on a charge of first degree murder, and it was expected that he would enter a plea of not guilty to that charge.

The court accepted Schinagle's plea of guilty to the lesser second-degree murder charge this morning upon the recommendation of Prosecuting Attorney Harold Roth.

Roth told the court that he had carefully studied all evidence available about the case before making the recommendation that the plea of guilty to the lesser charge of second-degree murder be accepted.

Roth said he was making the recommendation with reluctance because of the brutality exhibited in the commission of the crime, but felt he was conscientiously discharging his official duties as prosecuting attorney.

He noted that his careful study of the case led to his conclusion that there were doubts of proof of premeditation, as would be required to obtain conviction on the first-degree murder charge.

Judge Kear, in accepting Roth's recommendation and pronouncing sentence, told Schinagle that he had made his mistake and that now he should make the best of his life and be a model prisoner.

Sorry for Boy, Girl

"I am sorry for you, your parents, the girl, and her parents," the judge said.

Schinagle, dressed in gray, avoided looking at the 30 to 40 spectators present in the court room during the arraignment.

Asked by Judge Kear if he knew of any reason why sentence should not be pronounced at that time, Schinagle answered, in a low voice, "No."

Also present in the court room were the youth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy R Schinagle Sr., and Miss Pfeil's brother, Robert Pfeil of Columbus.

Roth's Statement

Roth, during the arraignment this morning in the Upper Sandusky court, said:

"Raymond H Stansberry as attorney for the defendant, having indicated he is ready and willing to enter a plea of guilty to second-degree murder, I now wish to inform the court that I have carefully studied all evidence, and have gone over the same with the sheriff and investigating officials, and other assistants. We have gone carefully into the defendant's background and his association with Miss Pfeil. We have conferred with her nearest relatives and have carefully studied medical reports and all evidence available.

"After such study, and consultation with other attorneys who have had considerable experience in murder cases, I have now come to the conclusion that there are doubts of proof of premeditation, and therefore I recommend acceptance of this plea.

'Tragic Case'

"I do this regretfully because of the brutality exhibited in the perpetration of this crime, but I am conscientiously discharging my official duty in this case as I understand it to be, after careful consideration of all facts available.

"This is a tragic case. I only hope that parents, as well as young

U.N. Palestine Group Studies Arab Incidents

Security Council To Hear Report of Situation Tuesday

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. Palestine truce supervisor drew up a report to the Security Council on threatening Arab-Israeli border incidents today as tension continued to rise in the Holy Land area.

Denmark's Maj. Gen. Vagn Bennike, the supervisor, was scheduled to give the 11-nation Council on Tuesday the truce commission's version of recent frontier bloodshed, including an Israeli attack on three Jordan border villages in which 66 Arabs reportedly were killed.

Accuse Each Other

Israel and her neighbors have accused each other of aggression and violation of the armistice agreement. Syria also has charged the Israelis with illegally diverting the waters of the Jordan River.

As Bennike worked on his report informed sources in London said Britain has informally advised the Arab states and Israel to avoid any military action that might upset Middle East stability.

These sources said the London government emphasized that the Western Powers still stand firmly on their 1950 declaration guaranteeing the integrity of frontiers in the area. Britain, the United States and France orally called for the U N investigation into the border disturbances.

Jordan Denies Charges

Jordan has officially denied Israeli charges that large concentrations of Jordan's Arab Legion have been moved into the Jerusalem area but Syria reportedly has moved troops up to the Israeli border with orders to inform Jordan of any possible Israeli aggression.

In a meeting at Amman, Jordan's capital, last night, two subcommittees of the eight-nation Arab League hammered out decisions on several political, economic and military aspects of the Arab-Israeli dispute.

No details were announced.

Derailment Denounced

An Israeli military spokesman in Jerusalem, meanwhile, said the U N. Armistice Commission has denounced the derailment of an Israeli freight train by exploding mines as a grave truce breach.

The train was blasted Thursday on the Haifa-Lydda line. Israeli officials have charged the explo-

Neutral Group Delays Action On Prisoners

Indians Gain 2 Days In Bid To Get POWs To Listen to Reds

PANMUNJOM (AP) — The Indian Command today gained another 48 hours for its attempt to talk anti-Communist Korean war prisoners into listening to Red efforts to persuade them to return home.

The Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission is scheduled to make an announcement Monday that a reliable source said would postpone indefinitely the stalled explanations.

Only agreement by the Korean POWs to hear the Red explainers would break the deadlock and it appeared unlikely that the Indians could coax the Koreans to agree before the commission announcement is made.

Announcement Put Off

The announcement was to have come Saturday, but was put off until Monday, giving the Indian Command two more days to talk with the stubborn leaders of the anti-Red Korean POWs.

The explanations were halted last Monday when the Koreans refused to leave their compounds to be interviewed by Communist agents.

Polish and Czech members of the commission demanded that Indian customal troops use as much force as necessary to herd the POWs to the explanation tents.

Vote Against Force

The Swiss, Swedish and Indian delegates voted against using force.

That's the problem facing Indian Lt. Gen. K S Thimayya, chairman of the commission—to get the POWs to listen and thus heal the breach that threatens the Korean truce.

Reliable sources said Thimayya's job seems almost insurmountable.

While the Indians tackled the touchy problem, a South Korean prisoner, one of 353 the Reds said

Lot More Needed

Rain Creates Hope For Drought's End

A trace of rainfall accompanying a change in the weather today gave rise to a hope the long summer and fall drought may soon be broken up.

The precipitation in Marion County was the first in nearly a month. While hardly making a trickle in dry stream beds throughout the county, the rain was welcomed by farmers and city folk alike.

Some communities in the Marion area, and many farms, have been low on water or without water for a month or more. It will take a lot of rain to refill cisterns, start streams flowing again and build up the underground water table.

Weather Bureau Hopeful

The U S Weather Bureau in Washington, like farmers nevertheless hope the drought might soon be broken. The Associated Press reported.

Some rain has already fallen in parts of the Southwest and Midwest and Jerome Namias, chief of long range weather forecasters, said: "The storm area has a good chance of coming east."

The forecasters, interviewed yesterday, hesitated to say whether this would be the end, or only an interruption, of the long drought that began developing in 1951.

In Missouri and parts of the Southwest, officials said, it was the worst drought ever.

Wet Weather Widespread

Cloudy, cool and wet weather prevailed over wide areas from the Rockies to the Appalachians today.

Fairly pleasant and mild weather appeared in prospect for most of the East Coast, the Southeastern states and along the Pacific Coast.

Heaviest rainfall continued in southern Texas with a wet belt extending from the Texas Gulf Coast northwestward to southern Idaho. There also were light showers in the eastern sections of the Great Lakes region and parts of New England.

Temperatures in 30's

The cool air which hit Midwest areas yesterday extended eastward today to the Appalachians and south to western Tennessee, northern Mississippi and northern Louisiana as well as north and central Texas. Temperatures were in the 30s and 40s across the northern half of the country early.

Special Envoy Sees Chance of Speedy Confab

Dean Hopes Korean Talks Can Be Set Up In Two-Week Period

SEOUL (AP)—Special U. S. Envoy Arthur Dean said today he is hopeful it will take no more than "10 days to two weeks" of discussions with the Communists to complete arrangements for a Korean political conference.

"If we can't get a decision in 10 days or two weeks we probably can't get any agreement at all," he added.

Wary of Reds

Dean, who opens the preliminary talks Monday, emphasized that he has no intention of letting the Reds maneuver the sessions into a "de facto political conference."

The U S State Department official, who will speak for the U. N. Command during the talks, told a news conference he has no idea who will represent the Communists.

He repeated that as far as he is concerned the talks will be limited to fixing a time and place for the full dress talks. But Dean said he would listen to anything new the Reds may have to say.

Confers With Rhee

Dean met newsmen shortly after conferring here with South Korea's President Syngman Rhee. He said they agreed that South Korea will have an observer at the preliminary talks.

Informed quarters had reported earlier that the observer would be Col. Lee Soo Yung, a ROK staff officer during the prolonged armistice negotiations.

Dean flew to Korea from Japan Saturday for a round of top level conferences before going to the Allied truce headquarters at Munsan.

Ellis O Briggs, U. S. ambassador to Korea, flew here with Dean and the two conferred with George Allen, U S ambassador to India who also is in Korea. Accompany-

4 Men Killed In Pileup of Auto Crashes

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)— Four men were killed today in a series of traffic crashes on U. S. 52 just west of Portsmouth.

One of the victims was directing traffic at the scene when he was struck by a car.

Preliminary reports of the accident said originally two automobiles had collided on the highway and that immediately afterwards two other automobiles piled into that wreckage.

Killed in the collisions were Harold Keen, Orville Gilkerson and Harry Terrill, all of Portsmouth and vicinity.

Lonnie Cutlip, a Portsmouth mechanic who happened by the first accident and tried to direct traffic around the wreckage, was struck and killed by an automobile.

State Highway Patrolmen and sheriff's deputies were still at the scene at 9 30 a. m. investigating the crashes.

All of London Out of Gas as Haulers Strike

Troops Take Over Distribution, Road Transport Paralyzed

LONDON (AP)—Troops in full battle kit took over distribution of emergency gasoline supplies in the London area today as a strike of tank truck drivers that all but paralyzed road transport went into its sixth day.

But fresh troubles loomed in the wake of the government's order calling in the soldiers. Bus conductors and drivers at several of the London Transport Board's depots voted to walk out if their vehicles were filled with army-delivered gasoline.

Every Garage Dry

The troops moved in as every garage within a 40-mile radius of London reported its fuel tanks dry.

The government has clamped on a rigid ration system giving essential public services first call on available gasoline and oil.

Prime Minister Churchill ordered all members of his Cabinet to remain in London over the weekend, standing to deal with any possible emergency.

The armed troops—1 600 soldiers and 1 000 men of the Royal Air Force marched briskly into the city's gasoline depots at dawn today and swung aboard the fleets of idle tank trucks.

Arbitration Refused

They had been ready since the strikers refused union appeals last night to end their wildcat walkout and submit their demands to arbitration.

The 2,600 drivers quit work Monday demanding the dismissal of all non-union co-workers, full union recognition by the industry and a 10 shilling ($1.40) weekly pay raise. They have been getting seven pounds, five shillings and six pence ($20.37) a week.

Administration Fires 1,456 as Security Risks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House says, 1,456 government employes have been fired or forced to resign under President Eisenhower's new security program since it went into operation May 27.

These removals from the government payroll are apart from the separation of 145,000 other federal employes for economy reasons, presidential Press Secretary James C Hagerty told newsmen yesterday.

The number of security removals under the Eisenhower program compares with these figures for the old loyalty program which operated for five years under former President Truman.

Some Forms Criticized

Backers Declare Charter Idea Has No Major Flaws

This is the third in a series on the Home Rule Charter question which will be voted upon in Marion in the Nov. 3 election.

By CHARLES L. MARTIN

The question has arisen among various Marion voters as to whether there are any disadvantages to a home rule charter form of municipal government.

The Home Rule Charter study committee which has brought the charter question before the public maintains there are none.

There are however, advantages and disadvantages to the various forms of government which may be set up under a home rule charter.

It will be the purpose of a charter commission, if elected in November, to consider these various advantages and disadvantages in arriving at a form of government they think best for Marion. Their decision will be subject to review by the voters at a later election, for the law provides that any form of government recommended by the commission must be approved by the voters.

This vote will not be taken at least until a year from now.

At the election this year, scheduled Nov. 3, voters will decide only whether to set up the commission. They will not be young

Commissioner Mitchell Hurt in Farm Mishap

County Commissioner Luther Mitchell is reported in "good" condition this morning in Marion City Hospital where he was admitted Friday following the loss of portions of two fingers in an accident on the farm of his son, Howard Mitchell, near Claridon.

Mitchell lost portions of the fourth and fifth fingers of his right hand when his hand became entangled in a grain elevator when he was attempting to start the motor. Time of the accident was shortly before noon Friday.

Pickets Restricted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Common Pleas Judge Joseph M. Harter yesterday limited pickets at the Columbus North American Aviation plant to four at each auto gate and two at railroad and pedestrian entrances.

Management sought the court order, charging the striking CIO Auto Workers union was preventing workers from entering the plant by mass picketing.

Elmer Adkins, president of the union's Local 927, said the union would ask the court to dissolve the injunction today.

Accident brought about discovery of Christian Science

Her first husband, Maj George Glover, died and left her penniless six months after they were married When her baby was born she had to give it to care of strangers she had never seen Her second husband, wandering Dentist Daniel Patterson, deserted her after 10 years. The wife of a retired sea captain took her in at Amesbury, Mass, but the Good Samaritan's son-in-law said he would tolerate no "vagabonds" in the house and turned her out.

Poverty stricken, homeless, grief stricken and ill the frail little woman wandered about Lynn, Mass, with a heart too full and a mind too burdened to think of dangers of the ice covered streets.

"YOU HAVE TAKEN your last step," a doctor told 46-year-old Mary Baker after she had slipped on the ice, fallen and injured her spine Partially paralyzed and unable to move from her bed, the despondent woman asked for a Bible

Writing of the occasion years later, Mary Baker Eddy said it was divine guidance that caused her to open the Bible at Matthew IX, 2 7 "And lo, they brought to Him a paralytic, lying on a bed . and Jesus said to the paralytic Be of good cheer, child, thy sins are forgiven . Arise and take thy bed and go unto thy house And he arose, and went to his house"

In those words, said Mrs Eddy, "I discovered the science of divine metaphysical healing" For, so great was the surge of power within her that she immediately "got out of bed and walked"

THUS WAS BORN the Christian Science movement, the organization and promotion of which Mary Baker Eddy spent her remaining 43 years . until "the beginning of life" overtook her at the age of 89 in 1910

In addition to her prolific writings in the cause of Christian Science, this remarkable woman wrote several hymns for the denomination she founded

The circumstances under which Mrs Eddy wrote the following hymn are not definitely known It is probable that she wrote it while sitting on the great red rocks that overlook the ocean near Lynn, Mass., where she often went to meditate.

O'er waiting harpstrings of the mind
There sweeps a strain
Low, sad, and sweet whose measures bind
The power of pain

And wake a white-winged angel throng
Of thoughts illumed
By faith and breathed in raptured song
With love perfumed.

Then His unveiled sweet mercies show
Life's burdens light
I kiss the cross, and wake to know
A world more bright

And o er earth's troubled, angry sea
I see Christ walk,
And come to me, and tenderly,
Divinely talk

Thus Truth engrounds me on the rock,
Upon Life's shore
'Gainst which the winds and waves can shock,
Oh, nevermore!

From tired joy and grief afar,
And nearer Thee—
Father, where Thine own children are,
I love to be

My prayer some daily good to do
To Thine, for Thee,
An offering pure of Love, whereto
God leadeth me

A Pure Heart

A Sermonette

By REV. LESTER L. ZIMMERMAN
Pastor of First Church of the Nazarene

"Create in me a clean heart, O God and renew a right spirit within me."—Psalms 51 13.

The text is a part of a prayer coming from a man whose heart had betrayed him David had fallen from grace and was now in the condemned state such as ill find themselves who give in to temptations

Among the many requests David asks in this great prayer he prays for a clean heart He was aware of the fact that if he could get the source of his life right then his whole life would be right We are aware that one's life is affected by his knowledge but knowledge falls short in that men find themselves unable to do as well as they know

When the Bible speaks of the heart of man it does not refer to the physical organ known as the heart but to the inner man or man's real self

In this meditation shall we look and see the importance of a clean heart as revealed in the Word of God

GOD DETERMINES the state of a man by his heart

'But the Lord said unto Samuel look not on his countenance or on the height of his stature because I have refused him for the Lord seeth not as man seeth, for man looketh on the outward appearance but the Lord looketh on the heart' 1 Sam 16 7

The above passage is taken from the incident where God had sent the Prophet to anoint a King for Israel David was the most unlikely of all the sons of Jesse from the outward appearance, but God saw a heart that was right Our weakness is in the judging of men by the outward appearance personality, ability, and even talents But the Lord looks beyond these to see the real self

OUT OF THE heart are the issues of life Keep thy heart with all diligence, for out of it are the issues of Life" Prov 4 23

James asks the question, 'Doth a fountain send forth at the same place sweet water and bitter' he went on to say 'Can the fig tree my brethren bear olive berries either a vine figs so can no fountain both yield salt water and fresh James 3 11 12 A man's life is never better than his heart That is the reason the salvation of Jesus Christ strikes first of all at the heart He lays the ax at the root of man's nature Nicodemus was advised of the Master that he must be born again' The life will not be changed until the heart has been created anew by the Spirit of God

A CLEAN HEART is necessary if we are to praise as we should Else also youthful lusts' put to follow righteousness faith charity peace, with them that call on the Lord out of a pure heart' II Tim 2 22 An impure heart is apt to be a selfish heart and will prove to that end Ye ask and receive not because ye ask amiss that ye may consume it upon your lusts James 4 3 But again we read in James 5 16 "The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much Wrong praying, has slowed up the Kingdom of God many times When one's heart is pure he has the mind of Christ and thinks in terms of others Jesus went about doing good A pure heart will cause one to pray for others and never to pray a selfish prayer for one's own exultation or profit

A CLEAN HEART is necessary if we are to see God Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God" Matt 5 8 'Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord or who shall stand in his holy place' He that hath clean hands and a pure heart Psalms 24 3 4 The man whose heart is pure sees God in all His wonderful creation He gives God credit for all His works and His provisions of daily bread The impure heart takes all the credit and says 'Look what my hands have wrought" The impure heart leaves all to chance and is apt to say, "It all just happened' But the pure in heart recognizes the 'first cause' of things The hill of the Lord' certainly refers to heaven The Psalmist asks the question, that many a soul has asked within their own heart 'Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord" but he also proceeds to answer the question, 'He that hath clean hands and a pure heart"

In conclusion of this meditation we would ask you just one question Is thy heart pure If not why not when Calvary is sufficient to cleanse and purify and it is free to all

Are Neckties Really More Important?

Consider how unthinkable it would be to say to a friend, "Bill, I want you to go out and buy me a house I haven't the time to do it myself" You would think of making so deeply personal a purchase in an offhand any-old-thing-will-do fashion Yet think of it! Scarcely a week goes by but some "friend of the family" comes to us to arrange hurriedly for burial space that another had not had the time to provide Isn't it almost grotesque that many a man who would never allow another to select his neckties will yet thoughtlessly leave the choice of his own family plot to another? Would you?

St. Paul's Church To Dedicate Organ

Special Music Is Planned For Worship Service Sunday Morning

Dedication of the remodeled church organ will take place at the Sunday morning worship service in St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

The program will feature music designed to reveal the full tone and range of the remodeled instrument, which has several hundred new pipes, many new stops and couplers and a completely modern, two-manual detached electro-pneumatic console.

Miss Grace Cooper, church organist, will play the following organ numbers: "Rigaudon," by Campra; "Tocatta in D Minor," G. B. Nevin; "In Autumn," Stebbins, and "Scherzoso," G. H. Rogers.

HYMNS AT the service will be, "The Church's One Foundation," "Praise to the Lord," and "Now Thank We All Our God."

Anthems to be sung by the choir under the direction of Mrs. R. Y. Smith are "Bless the Lord O My Soul," by Ivanoff; "O God Who Hast Prepared," Gaul; "Thou Wilt Keep Him in Perfect Peace," Demarest; and "God Be in My Head," Davies.

Also present at the service tomorrow will be two fromer organists of the parish, Mrs. Fanny Benson, who was organist from 1914 to 1923, and Miss Ada Bowen, who played the pipe organ during the period of 1905 to 1913. Before that, she played the old reed organ at the church for about 20 years. Miss Cooper succeeded Mrs. Benson as organist in 1923, and has completed 30 years of service to her church.

The Rector, Rev. Frederick W. Leech, will take part in the dedication also.

FOLLOWING the service there will be an informal reception and coffee hour in the Parish House.

A Lima, O., pipe organ company was commissioned by the local church last spring to rebuild, remodel and enlarge the organ. The old organ, partially a gift of the Carnegie Foundation, was installed in 1917.

A special committee on the pipe organ, appointed in the Vestry, to investigate and made recommendations concerning the work to be done, consisted of R. Y. Smith, A. F. Busick and R. I. Mason, assisted for consultation purposes by Miss Cooper, Mrs. R. Y. Smith and Mrs. Fanny Benson.

MISS GRACE COOPER who has played the pipe organ at St. Paul's Episcopal Church the last 30 years, is shown at the console of the recently remodeled instrument. Dedication of the organ will be conducted Sunday.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

The Miracle of Optimism

If you study the lives of people who do the most and the best things in life, you will notice that they have one thing in common. It occurs so often in such people that it might be said to have the effect of a law of successful living. It is simply that they always have the quality of optimism. And the achievements of people who have this characteristic are so tremendous that I have come to think that optimism can work miracles.

DR. PEALE

Optimism is, of course, the philosophy that reality is essentially good. It is the conviction that the world itself is good. It is the belief that, in the long run, good always over-balances evil. It is the belief that, if you expect the best, you can attain the best.

Ralph Waldo Emerson, certainly one of the wisest of our American sages, said: "Nerve us up with incessant affirmatives. Don't waste yourself in rejection, nor bark against the bad, but chant the beauty of the good."

AND, OF COURSE, the Bible tells us that God is good, that hope and faith are essential factors in the attainment of the good life. It is a dynamic fact that if you cast out pessimism and cultivate within your mind the attitude of optimism, that is, belief in the good, miracles can and will take place in your life and work.

The first step is to affirm through optimistic thinking—which is really only another word for faith—the tremendous resources within yourself. Never hold the thought that you have no greater power within you. Never believe that you are limited. You have capacities you have never realized, abilities you have never released. By accepting the idea of limitation, you can limit yourself. One of the great facts about human nature is that in each of us is a capacity so tremendous that we do not fully comprehend it.

FOR EXAMPLE, not long ago a tornado swept a certain city doing great damage. One of my readers wrote to me about a mother, confined to her bed by an attack of infantile paralysis which had left her paralyzed from the waist down. At the height of the tornado, she became concerned about her two small children in the next room. There was no one to help her. So this woman, whose legs had been unable to move, slowly and painfully got out of bed; made her way into that next room, took her two babies into her arms and walked out of the house with them to a safe place. According to last reports, she is still walking.

Love was more powerful than this woman's physical limitations; the need arising from the emergency brought her up out of a bed from which she had been told she might never rise. Many other people are paralyzed, not in their bodies, but in their thoughts. They have accepted their limitations by saying, "I can't do more than this." And they fail to rise to the emergencies of life.

SUCH A self-appraisal is not true of any of us. With optimism and faith, we too can, in the world of the Bible, "rise up and walk." Don't let yourself be deceived by the falsehoods about your own abilities that you may have been carrying in your mind for years. Get fixed in your soul and spirit this great quality of optimism, faith and confidence, and you will be astonished by what you can do and can be.

The miracle of optimism, like the other miracles offered by religious faith, is yours for the asking, and for the believing. In the midst of all discouragement, pessimism or failure, practice the principles of faith, and a strong new force will be felt in your life. Optimism can work miracles for one who believes.

Jet Airplane Strike Spreads To Third Plant

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A strike spread today to North American Aviation Co.'s third plant—at Fresno, Calif.—increasing the total idle to an estimated 33,000 in what a union official called the start of an industry-wide struggle for higher wages.

The company said "about 9 per cent" of the night shift at Fresno walked out as the CIO United Automobile Workers contract expired at midnight. The shift joined strikers whose contract ran out 24 hours earlier at larger plants in Los Angeles and Columbus, Ohio.

With production of jet fighters and interceptors halted and with a union leader predicting a long strike, North American Board Chairman J. H. Kindelberger declared:

"The strike called by UAW-CIO leaders against our plants is a deliberate attempt to force unreasonable costs upon production of F86 Sabre jets and the national defense budget."

Galion Trucker First Affected by New Law

GALION — The Ohio Revised Code, which provides for penalty of three days in jail when found guilty of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, was applied for the first time in Galion this week.

The first case to be heard under the law was that of Donald E. Shook, 32, a Galion truck driver. He was given a hearing in Mayor's Court Thursday and pleaded guilty.

He was arrested Thursday at 3:55 a.m., after his car bumped into the police cruiser which was waiting at the New York Central railroad crossing on Harding Way East for a train to pass.

Shock was fine $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in Crawford County jail.

More Power to Whom?

Some day the people of the United States must decide who is going to develop their atomic power resources — their government or their private enterprise.

The day has come closer with an Atomic Energy Commission announcement that it will build a power plant in connection with one of its reactor projects at Oak Ridge, Paducah and Portsmouth

This will be the pilot plant for what is destined to be the greatest use of nuclear fission once it has been pried loose from the militarists.

Atomic energy released systematically can generate enough electricity to make today's electrical output seem insignificant In countries with coal and water power shortages, generating plants powered by nuclear fission could bring about economic and social transformations in the space of a few years.

The explosive uses of atomic energy already are secondary in the minds of progressive thinkers in this new field They are looking ahead to a world with unlimited electrical energy and resent the idea that men may be stupid enough to destroy themselves on the brink of a golden age

The day when the people of the United States must decide to keep atomic power resources from being monopolized by government cannot be far away when the AEC makes plans for atomic power plants

49th State: Apathy

Snap judgments about elections have a way of snapping back It is happening in Wisconsin.

Voters in that state's Ninth Congressional District are denying accounts of some of the things which caused them to elect a Democrat instead of a Republican to replace the late Merlin Hull.

Instead of this being a punch in the nose for the GOP, as interpreted by most passers of judgment, voters in the district are pointing out some additional evidence.

First, they are pointing out that Hull was a Wisconsin 'progressive' in the LaFollette tradition and is to be succeeded by another "progressive" — a Democrat instead of a Republican The issue was whether or not the ninth district would quit being 'progressive," and on that issue the nonprogressive candidate, a Republican, lost

As to this being a rebuke to the Eisenhower administration, voters in Wisconsin's ninth district are pointing out that only 50,000 of them went to the polls compared with 130,000 who turned out for the presidential election in 1952

They believe their apathy revealed a significant lack of interest They weren't mad at anyone.

Since the Wisconsin outcome is being interpreted as a warning that Wisconsin farmers are on the warpath and in a mood "to strike Ike" it seems only fair to be aware of a dissenting opinion from some of the citizens who did the voting

Could This Be Treason?

With a side-of-the-morth apology to all stopwatch efficiency experts, this is an enthusiastic observation about a point of view expressed in the annual office managers' conference of American Management Association

The speaker was J Douglas Elliott, in charge of customer billing for Detroit Edison Co He said efficiency sometimes proved to be inefficient because it failed to take into account the nature of human beings.

He cited examples of fancy machine operations which had been costlier in the long run than relatively simple hand operations in preparing bills for customers He referred to the possibility an office worker who is not permitted to move about occasionally — because that would look inefficient — might be less efficient than a worker indulged in some inefficiency

It is less than treason in this machine age to suggest there is a point at which mechanization itself, becomes inefficient Mechanization is not a goal in itself but a means to an end. The end is to get work performed efficiently — not to make machines the masters of men.

Security Item

Here is a tidbit of reassuring information from the Pentagon that somehow fails to be reassuring

'Assistant Army Secretary John Slezak says the ammunition program, recently a subject of grave congressional concern is 'in better shape' than ever before

In the absence of word to the contrary, it may be assumed the aviation, tank, truck, field artillery, winter footwear and protective clothing programs also are in better shape than ever before Plus the shipbuilding, submarine, selective service and officer-training programs.

There hasn't been a shot fired in anger or a bomb dropped with lethal intent in Korea since July 27 ending 3 years and 32 days of fighting which revealed that the United States had lagged behind in tanks, ammunition, manpower, planes and over-all strategic concepts.

Yet before the war began the country was being assured that everything was in fine shape

Stay-at-Home Vote

By David Lawrence

GOP's Big Problem To Get Republicans to Polls

President Eisenhower's decision to refrain from campaigning for individual candidates for Congress —though, of course, he may make some speeches between now and election day in 1954 about the record of his administration and his party — has revived interest in the question of whether presidential influence in congressional elections has been exaggerated.

The most authoritative work on the subject is that of Dr. Malcolm Moos, professor of political science at Johns Hopkins University, who has given a summary of all available data, together with his own analysis, in a book entitled "Politics, Presidents and Coattails," published by the Johns Hopkins Press.

Dr Moos quotes various other authorities, too, and notes that Professor Ewing of the University of Oklahoma, in a study of congressional elections covering a 50-year period concludes that, "The popularity of a presidential candidate and the presidential campaign have a very limited influence upon congressional elections" In his judgment, "The coat-tail clutcher theory is vastly exaggerated."

If, therefore, each of the presidential candidates, whether winner or loser, has relatively little influence in presidential election years, it may be inferred that a president can exert even less influence in a so-called off-year when a Congress is being elected and a president is not being chosen.

Dr Moos points out that since 1896 the winning presidential candidate "has always garnered a larger vote than the total for his party's congressional ticket"

He declares that the disparity between the presidential and congressional ticket in the number of votes cast was 5 3 per cent in every presidential election from 1896 to 1916 but that from 1920 on "The average difference between the parties as regards the ratio of their presidential to their congressional ticket's vote has climbed to 11 9 per cent, which means that on the average only 89 to 90 persons out of every hundred who have been voting for president since 1920 have also been taking the pains to vote for congressional candidates"

It may be surprising to the public generally to learn that Dr Moos, in his listing of the order in which presidential candidates have exceeded their congressional tickets, shows that Theodore Roosevelt is first with 114 9 per cent and that Charles Evans Hughes, who lost in 1916, is tied for first with the same percentage of excess over the congressional vote.

Franklin Roosevelt comes third, fourth and fifth with 112.3 per cent and Herbert Hoover was sixth with 111 9 per cent.

Wendell Willkie was twelfth with 105 1 per cent, and William J. Bryan, and Thomas E. Dewey are close runners-up for thirteenth and fourteenth places.

Since the book was written before the November 1952 election, it does not include the Eisenhower or Stevenson ranking. But, using the same method of computation, it turns out that only 81 persons out of every 100 who voted for Eisenhower voted for the Republican congressional nominees

In the case of Stevenson the record shows that three more persons out of every 100 voted for the congressional nominees of the Democratic party than for Stevenson In percentages, this means that Eisenhower got 119 per cent of the congressional vote of his party and Stevenson got only 97 per cent.

It is interesting to observe that President Truman was the single exception to the rule He won, yet he ran behind the congressional ticket, getting 99 9 per cent of that vote.

All the winners otherwise ran ahead of the congressional ticket of their respective parties, and so did all the losers run ahead with the exception of Parker in 1904, Bryan in 1908, Landon in 1936 Davis in 1924, and Stevenson in 1952

The book by Dr. Moos offers no explanations as to why people do not vote as extensively for Congress as they do for president but does point out that in off-election years the vote is even lower because of a lessened interest.

This is but another way of saving the local nominees, despite their supposed popularity in their own districts, aren't as well known as a presidential nominee.

In the coming elections, therefore, it may be anticipated that the people with grievances will come out and vote.

The dissenters in congressional elections in the last 20 years have been primarily Republicans but, since the Democrats have become the protesting party, they may be augmented by a faction of Republicans Hence, the Republicans could lose Congress as a direct result of the stay-at-home vote which may be due to indifference, protest or negligence

It's the most serious problem the Republicans face—how to get Republicans to the polls in the November 1954 congressional elections

Dear Nephew: Whenever we have another lovely October day, I think of that dumb situation when departing guests don't know how to leave gracefully.

Like everybody else I'm getting fidgety If summer doesn't know enough to turn the doorknob and go, I'm in favor of pushing her

I assume this would bring autumn weather, with the rain we need so badly But I could be wrong about that. The drought could keep right on going through autumn and winter There's no natural law against it

Beautiful America could become a desert. I have been diverting myself recently with the thought that if this happened we would not know about it because the disaster would be too vast for comprehension.

The tragedy would close in on us by slow degrees. Here and there a community would fold up and blow away when its water supply disappeared This is happening right now—and there's nothing sudden about it.

Lack of water simply has ruled out any possibility of growth It will not be years later before the residents who hung on courageously will understand how they happened to be living in ghost towns, if the water shortages continue

Crop surpluses gradually would turn to crop shortages The United States would become dependent on outside sources of supply to support a declining standard of living We'd become a have - not civilization

But since all standards would be falling at the same time it would be difficult to grasp the fact that bountiful America had turned into a geographic poorhouse, like the Near East, for instance, or the arid plains of Asia

To me these are not necessarily thoughts of gloom but only a recognition of something that might happen One drought does not mean anything But if enough droughts occurred in close succession, our historians would brush up on what happened to places like Carthage, once a civilization now an expanse of drifting sand

No American who has seen the sand dunes of Indiana, the plains of Kansas, the Dakota badlands, or the desolation of Texas in a dry spell can be oblivious of the disaster which would come to America with a lack of rainfall

You might think of it this way—that the United States already has lost without hope of recovery more than a billion dollars' worth of wealth from this year's drought Or make it two billion The estimate is guesswork

This wealth is gone forever If similar amounts were subtracted year after year the result would be creeping poverty—the kind conservationalists talk about when they admonish their contemporaries to waste nothing because they are the beneficiaries of nature which can take away or bestow.

By the time this letter reaches you, it may be raining It may rain and rain and rain But it will be too late to undo the damage done by not having rain when it was needed. If I were a praying man in such matters, I'd be praying for a better distribution of rainfall in 1954

Your aunt nibs in to suggest that maybe we'll make up the deficit with snow this winter and she wants no squawks from me if it happens. Pass around my regards

Hitler Better General Than Pictured

By Gault MacGowan

LONDON Adolf Hitler's military reputation is staging a comeback as official sources are able to analyze the course of World War II with objective vision.

The Fuehrer has been roundly condemned by virtually all his former generals for the responsibility of losing the war by interfering in its direction. But opinion on the Allied side is veering to the view that the war would have taken much longer to win, had relations been better between the Nazi party and the Wehrmacht.

Hitler's own military experience was confined to that of a corporal in the trenches of World War I, and thus he was despised by those with the superior technical knowledge, of staff colleges and officer academies.

But Hitler learned two things in the trenches which he used with telling effect in the war when he could find generals willing to carry them out The first was that generals always strive to keep their commands intact and, when in danger of being overrun, always seek to retire "to previously prepared positions"

Hitler told Gen. Walter Warlimont, his personal liaison officer and deputy chief of the operations staff of the Wehrmacht "When ever a line of defense is built beind the front line, my generals think of nothing but going back to that line'"

His second point was that the German soldier could be relied upon to stick to his position till death and that to retire him was too often caused by lack of similar courage among the generals.

Hitler himself chose to make his last stand in his capital and to commit suicide rather than fall into the hands of the enemy. Lots of other tactics were open to him including escape by U-boat or airplane Not till he was dead did the German generals surrender

In a letter written in the last hours of his life to Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the Wehrmacht Supreme Command, Hitler commented: "The army general staff cannot be compared with the general staff in the first World War. Its achievements were far behind those of the fighting front"

Now as German generals may shortly be in the European Army, analysis of the Hitler view of static defense against the mobile school is absorbing military students in England.

Major John North a British official historian, pointed out in his recently published book. "It would not seem unreasonable to suggest that the Fuehrer had a better sense than some of his generals of what the German soldier could accomplish.

"Nor did he demand in vain blind faith in his judgment and devotion to his leadership. His direct call was answered by those German soldiers who on the Island of Walcheren, at the entrance to the Scheldt Estuary, lived up to their oath 'I am pledged to hold this fortified sector of the last, even to the sacrifice of my own life'"

History records that these Hitlerian tactics imposed a two-month delay on Allied operations in Northwest Europe.

"There was nothing very crazy" writes Major North "about the way Hitler launched the Ardennes counter-offensive of December 1944. . . . planned in all its details . . . by the Fuehrer and his staff"

The U.S First Army might have had a rougher time than it did, in the capture of the key port of Cherbourg, had Hitler's orders been obeyed

Field Marshal Von Runstedt, supreme commander in the West, is on record as saying that six days before the fall of Cherbourg, "Hitler had frantically ordered reinforcements to be sent to the northern part of the peninsula to defend the port. Instead of trying to pull the men out of a hopeless trap, Hitler wanted to send more men into it Of course, we paid no attention to that order"

Brest in the Brittany peninsula and St Malo near by, where Hitler's tactics were followed, took much valuable time from Gen Patton's Third Army in trying to reduce them

Field Marshal Lord Montgomery who bumped into German "Victory or death" opposition in his first battle for Caen, is on record as stating somewhat jauntily that: "I was expecting to fight Field Marshal Rommel — my old enemy of the desert — and not the Fuehrer himself."

Capt. Liddell Hart, England's foremost military writer on strategy, has pointed out in "The Other Side of the Hill," that Hitler recognized the potentialities of mobile armored forces sooner than his general staff and his backing of the exponents of this new instrument — in particular Gen Heinz Guderian — proved the most decisive factor in Germany's opening victories.

When at the end of June, 1944, Marshal Rommel proposed that he should fight a rearguard action back to the Seine, the Fuehrer retorted, "We must not allow mobile warfare to develop because the enemy surpasses us by far in mobility. Everything depends on confining him to his bridgehead. That should never have been permitted to develop. We must build up a front to block him off and then wage a war of attrition to force him back"

The Fuehrer would apear again to have been ahead of his generals, writes Major North, for five or six years later Gen. Bradley was to write that the secret weapon of the U S Army was its mobility

Military men are now inclined to think that Hitler's doctrine never had a real trial since the battle for Normandy and for Germany was fought virtually without the Luftwaffe

They claim that without air superiority and air interdiction of the German communications, the Allied ground forces would never have survived beyond the Normandy beaches Hitler's strategic reserves also were virtually nonexistent the great part having been swallowed up by pressure on the Russian front

Hitler — the "jumped-up corporal" — had made up for his lack of staff training by wide reading of the classic authorities on the art of war and it was probably fortunate for the Allies that he had no combat experience as a fighting general

WASHINGTON No man's land—10 girls in Washington to every male! No dates!

Phooey says Annette Ward a brainy hard-working young career girl from Georgia, the girls who don't have dates in Washington don't have them in Des Moines either Personally, she says, all she lacks is time to go out with the nice young men who keep her phone busy

Miss Ward, who first came to the capital in 1943 to work for the government and is now Washington correspondent for an international trade magazine, says she finds this town all that a working girl could ask for in the way of living job conditions and entertainment

"I came to Washington because it's a good news town and I wanted to write" Annette told me, "also it's beautiful. Also it's close to New York, and you don't have to live there I have a champagne appetite, am fond of good eating and living in a good place. I like to give and go to parties. I like sports, basketball, tennis, horseback riding and especially bicycling I get all this here" This energetic young woman brought her bike with her when she came up from Cordele, Ga.

A graduate of South Georgia College, with post-graduate work at George Washington and American Universities here and a background of work in fashions, home furnishings and decorating, she got her magazine job two years ago

Just settling down in her fifth apartment a seven-room layout, she says she has always found a nice place to live in here, even during the war years

Annette likes to entertain lots of people at once—50 to 60 at a time—buffet style

"It costs less than having several small parties," she said. "I bake a ham or turkey ahead of time and keep a supply of homemade ice box rolls in the refrigerator I decorate the table with inexpensive greens My girl friends help with the hostessing My boy friends preside over the bar"

Blonde Annette gets up every morning at 6 o'clock and plans her day She watches the local papers for good buys and buys conservatively

"Living expenses are what a girl makes them in Washington," she says "When asparagus is high I eat spinach. Organization is the greatest boon to modern womankind."

TV Rides the Rainbow

Color television has found FCC approval. The decisive test was satisfactory: BEER CAME THROUGH PERFECTLY IN NATURAL COLORS

Thirteen color TV sets were watched in the commission examination and it was obvious to all that TV had reached a point where you can soon sit in your living room, turn a dial and see tobacco, mascara, toilet soaps, complexion creams, canned noodle soup, macaroni dishes, Dagmar, Kate Smith, and that little girl dragging out the Castro convertible bed, in all the natural hues (Not a commercial seemed unnatural in the test, except for the wordage)

Color TV will be officially okayed any day and sets will be on the market next year. It's gonna be wonderful

Think of it, folks! The time is near when you can see if the fighter's trunks are purple or red with white stripes, know for sure there is a cut over Marciano's right eye, count every freckle on Godfrey's face, detect the pink in his bald spot, and see every shading in the cooking program's strawberry tarts, and chicken liver omelets!

Our black and white sets have begun to bore us It failed to show whether Fred Allens ghastly pallor had any variations whatever and we found the murders in Dragnet and all those other thrillers a little boring to the kiddies when the blood flowed only in black and white

Now we know relief is ahead Before many months we shall be able to tune in and know just how rosy-cheeked the girl weather forecaster is and what color wallpaper is in the "I Love Lucy" dining room.

Best of all, color TV will bring us the jackpots in a truly realistic manner. Money, the FCC reports, comes over in color beautifully!

Oh the joy of seeing in natural colors — all those living-room sets, watches, pearl necklaces, years' supplies of soap powders, complete wardrobes, deep-freezes and house paints!

Then, too, you can tell what color the limousine in the auto commercial is and whether the gal who shows how to lift and lower the seat is blonde, brunette or redhead.

One thing worries us—will the commission find a way to limit the TV circuit lines to black and white or must we get those in all shades of the rainbow (Twist the dial, Jennie. The beer cans look better on the other program!)

Saturday football telecasts being what they are, we would not be surprised to hear that next week's game will be between Outer Mongolia and East Rhodesia . . . The Yale football games on radio are sponsored by a bank. . . . With the ball on the five-yard line, third down, we wished the quarterback could have heard the appeal, "Your bank officials invite you, in all moments of indecision, to bring your problems to them"

Florence Chadwick, having run out of channels to swim, says she is going to take up golf. . . . The water holes should be no hazard.

Nylon stoppers instead of corks are being reluctantly put into champagne bottles by France, who insist they eliminate the essential "pop." What "pop"?

Orson Welles did King Lear on Omnibus and our set blew out a main tube before he had even warmed up to the role.

France has just honored Augustus Parmentier who introduced the potato to Paris in the 17th century . . . It is just as well that he isn't alive to behold what has happened to the art of preparing them French fried Professor Binet of the French Academy of Medicine says experiments are under way in crossing a potato with a tomato. . . . Whether to call it a "totao" or a "pomato" can start a new world war.

Francis X Bushman is finishing his 43rd year in movies. Boy, did we dig him in Poli's Bijou next to Tom Sullivan's Oneco Hotel in the old days!

Schertzer-Eaken Vows Exchanged In Wesley Church

The 47th wedding anniversary of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schertzer of near Marion, was chosen by Miss Ruth Schertzer and Robert E Eaken for their wedding, Sunday, Sept. 27, in Wesley Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs. George Schertzer of 458 Forest St and the bridegroom's parents are Mr and Mrs. Howard Eaken of Medina

Rev. W. Lincoln Stafford, pastor, officiated for the afternoon ceremony at 3 30 o'clock The custom of open church was observed.

Palms, baskets of white gladioli and white tapers in two seven-branch candelabra were the altar decorations and family pews were marked with huckleberry foliage and white satin bows. Mrs. Nina Ruth Hedges, aunt of the bride, was organist and Mrs. Evelyn Lashey sang

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a chapel-length gown of white nylon tulle over satin. The dress was fashioned with a fitted shirred bodice and the full skirt, appliqued in lace and iridescent sequins and pearls, was worn over a hoop. Over her strapless bodice she wore a short fitted jacket of Chantilly lace, button trimmed in the back and accented with a scalloped neckline, sequins and pearls. The long sleeves tapered into points over her hands Her fingertip veil was held with a crown of nylon tulle and pearls and her bridal bouquet was white roses and button pompons centered with a white orchid. The something old was her grandmother's wedding ring and a brooch belonging to her great-grandmother, and her single strand of pearls was a gift from the bridegroom

Mrs Richard Dodge of Powell a college roommate and sorority sister, was the matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Lee Wittenburg of near Kenton and Miss Shirley Hindall of Ada also sorority sisters and Miss Bonzie Gilbert of Norwalk, cousin of the bridegroom

Mrs Dodge wore a waltz-length strapless gown of lavender nylon net and taffeta with a bodice of purple velvet. Her matching stole was of net and she carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums The flowers in her hairdo matched those of her bouquet. The bridesmaid's gowns, styled like that worn by Mrs. Dodge, were of green nylon net and velvet, and their hairchips matched the bronze chrysanthemums in their bouquets Linda Furniss, cousin of the bride who was the junior bridesmaid, wore a lavender taffeta dress and carried yellow chrysanthemums Larry Furniss, also a cousin of the bride, was ring-bearer

Ronald Eaken of Medina, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man and ushers were Donald Schertzer, brother of the bride Robert Furniss of near Mt Gilead a cousin John Beck of Medina and Fred Minardi of Cuyahoga Falls, a fraternity brother.

Mrs. James Alcorn and Mrs Lawrence Rhinehart of near Mt Gilead, a cousin of the bride, lit the candles.

The reception was in the church parlor which was decorated with fall flowers. Lavender chrysanthemum blossoms encircled the cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom Hostesses were Mrs. Gerald Rasey of near Marion, Mrs. Harry Eberts of Granville, Mrs Warren Hedges of Green Camp, Mrs Ruth Carsten of Akron, Mrs. Pauline Gilbert of near Norwalk, Mrs Florence Zuspan and Miss Shirley Zuspan of near Edison, Gene Greer of Green Camp played a program of organ music during the afternoon

The couple took a wedding trip through southern Ohio. For traveling the bride wore a smoke blue suit, red accessories and her wedding orchid They are making their home at 345 S Prospect St. in Medina

The bride was graduated from the Green Camp High School and from Ohio Northern University, last June She is a member of Tau Kappa Kappa Sorority and is on the teaching staff of Lafayette School in Medina County.

Mr Eaken, a graduate of the Medina High School and the college of pharmacy at Ohio Northern University, is with the H H Bachtell Drug Store in Medina He is affiliated with Kappa Psi Pharmaceutical Fraternity.

Mr. W A. Ginder entertained with a dinner at Ringer' Inn as a pre-nuptial courtesy to Miss Schertzer Later, there was a miscellaneous shower for the honor guest at the Ginder home, 340 Park Blvd

These Days

By George Sokolsky

This is a "government by choice." The Declaration of Independence proclaimed to the world that every people has a right to choose its own government. The Constitution guarantees a Republican form of government for the United States and sets up a device for the election of its officers and legislators.

SOKOLSKY

In municipalities, this country has not done so well. At the turn of the century, Lincoln Steffens wrote a series of articles on the corruption of our cities which attracted wide attention, but really made no difference because in the ensuing decades the grafters became more numerous; their techniques more wily; the size of the loot enormous.

-:-

SUCH THIEVES as Tweed and Croker were amateurs compared with the present breed, who are not chiselers but who organize enterprises in collusion with political officials.

This a municipal election rarely touches the principal corruptionists, who generally are nonpartisan or bipartisan, whichever way you like to put it.

In the midst of the Fay scandal in New York, which involves corrupt labor unions and corrupt public officials, the metropolis is holding a municipal election in which two of the four candidates are owned outright by labor unions and nobody questions the ownership.

The citizens have had no voice in the selection of these candidates because, as the primaries are rigged, it would make little difference.

THERE WAS a contest in the Democratic primary, but most of the Democrats remained at home, refusing to vote in a contest which did not inspire them.

The Republicans had no such contest, the whole matter being cut and dried.

The Americans for Democratic Action is a Fabian socialist organization which parasitically lives on the Democratic party.

In New York State, it also directs a party, called the Liberal party, the private possession of David Dubinsky, who heads the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, which has a treasury of more than $160,000,000, which, though honestly managed, produces enormous political power.

THE ADA HAS two candidates for mayor, Rudolph Halley on the Liberal party ticket and Robert Wagner, Jr., on the Democratic party ticket, who insult each other regularly. The insults mean nothing, however. The quarrel is strictly fraternal.

The incumbent mayor, Vincent Impellitteri, is a gentleman, no matter what else is said about him, and the evidence is that he is owned neither by the gangs nor the labor leaders, which in this metropolis is at times interchangeable.

His weakness has been an inability to build a political organization while he sat in the City Hall.

His record of administration has been good but not demonstrative. In New York, everything must be made to appear urgent, enormous, important.

IMPELLITTERI does not have the gift of that type of articulation; Impy, as he is popularly called, is therefore out of the running.

The Republican candidate, Harold Riegelman, has long been a student of municipal affairs, particularly on the side of what happens to the people's money.

He is likely to be an efficient administrator even under the complex and confused system obtaining in this great city — a system devised to stop corruption by making that the corrupt work at it effectively.

While always a Republican, he has been more the pro bono publico citizen than the politician and has, as a lawyer, most often represented those who pay taxes and wonder what for.

NOW ALL THIS might be regarded as local trivia, were it not that if either Halley or Wagner is elected, it is likely to mean that Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., will be the Democratic candidate for governor of New York State and that he will control the 94 votes of that State at the next Democratic convention.

Thus far, Junior has given evidence of no greater achievement than to have been born of a father who gained the distinction of requiring the passage of a constitutional amendment limiting the presidency to two terms.

It is not likely that the Democrats will relish Junior's national leadership, but that may be their lot and their problem if New Yorkers decide on either Wagner or Halley for mayor.

In the campaign this has not been brought out. Thus far, the two words most used, and assumedly most enlightening, have been faker and liar.

Maybe that is representative government, 1953 model!

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Soviet spies, romping freely through our Army, Navy and classified armament plants, have fully equipped the Red air force with every detail necessary for mass bombing raids on this country.

RIESEL

The special agents who stole the secrets of mass production of the atomic bomb, worked with other espionage rings which stole the details of our radar screen. They also worked with other spy groups which supplied the photographs, minute descriptions, blueprints, and details of the importance and location of every military and industrial target worth bombing in the U.S. — after the Soviet bombers get through our radar screens.

The Fort Monmouth Signal Corps Radar Laboratory link in the interlocking Rosenberg espionage rings is only part of a network which has been piping our radar secrets to the Soviets for some 13 years.

THE SOVIETS' master spy in this atomic - electronic field was Arthur Alexandrovich Adams. It was Adams who set up the Julius Rosenberg spy ring, though it's doubtful that the executed agent knew Adams personally.

So close to radar secrets was Adams that he used as cover for his espionage activities a firm which had exclusive U.S. government contracts to produce $6,000,000 worth of highly secret items for use in our radar installations.

The company which Adams used as a "cover," according to a congressional investigating committee was the Electronics Corp. of America. Its president was Samuel Novick.

The congressional committee has published testimony to the effect that Novick made it possible for Adams, the master spy, to reside permanently in the U.S. According to these documents, Novick "facilitated" this by making "false statements" in Adams' behalf.

THERE IS NO evidence that Novick was engaged in espionage —but here we have the weird picture of a company with highly secret government contracts permitting its office to be used by the master spy who, in turn, put the Rosenberg atomic, radar, sky platform and proximity fuse spy rings in business.

In turn, the Rosenberg spy ring assigned Morton Sobell to the General Electric plant in Schenectady.

Sobell, an electrical engineer, got into the plant which was in desperate need of skilled men. Soon he was working on highly confidential radar experimentation for the U.S. Navy at the GE plant there.

He stayed on from 1942 to 1947 while David Greenglass worked the other end of the ring at the Los Alamos atomic proving grounds.

OTHERS IN the ring, now being exposed, were at the secret Signal Corps Radar Laboratory as well as at other Army and Navy installations.

These agents apparently moved with the greatest of ease.

For example, before Morton Sobell was assigned by the ring to infiltrate the Navy at the Schenectady GE plant, he had been with the U.S. Navy Bureau of Ordnance in Washington from 1939 to 1941. That was his specialty.

Meanwhile, other rings were collecting pictures of targets. No sense having a bomb and being able to pierce our screen unless they could hit real juicy targets. Those, they had.

ACCORDING TO a report turned in to the House of Representatives on Jan. 29, 1947, by Karl Mundt, now senator from South Dakota, there were 3,696 Russian agents in the U.S. at the time.

They were inspecting our defenses and assembling information about our railroads, dams, power plants, airplane and auto factories.

Dramatically, Mundt then revealed that a volume had been put together by the Soviets' official commercial organization in the U.S. — Amtorg Trading Corp.

The book was described by our intelligence officers as a veritable "manual for bombing America."

MUNDT PUT IT this way:

"In this volume are airplane views, which may be blown up to any size for military purposes, of the Pratt-Whitney plant at West Concord, Conn., the Kaiser shipping plant in California, the Ford plants at River Rouge and Willow Run, and the Hamilton Standard Propeller Co. plant at Hartford, Conn.

"Every big bridge in the U.S., including the Golden Gate and San Francisco - Oakland Bridges, and the George Washington Bridge of New York, has been photographed (by the Russians) from every angle, together with complete information concerning its structure. Huge maps of the Tennessee Valley power plant are presented and members will not need to be reminded that our atom-bomb plant at Oak Ridge, Tenn., is not far distant from the TVA."

All this is safe in Moscow now, with the secret of the bomb, the secret of getting through our defenses and the secrets of our vulnerability.

Those Missions from Moscow didn't do badly—for Moscow.

NEW FUND RAISING STUNT

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A new gimmick in fund raising was tried by the Dayton Community Chest this year. The chest sold coupons for $2.50, redeemable at grocery stores for a packaged spaghetti dinner. The grocery redeemed the coupon at chest headquarters for 78 cents. Thus the chest realized $1.72 on each coupon.

Three Sue Crosby For $1,051,400 as Result of Accident

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Three persons filed suit yesterday for $1,051,400 damages from Bing Crosby, alleging he was "under the influence of intoxicating liquors" when his car and theirs collided about 5:30 a.m. Oct. 11.

Superior Court subpoenaed the crooner to give a deposition Nov. 2 in an attorney's office.

Crosby's $12,500 Mercedes-Benz sports car was damaged in the crash at Wilshire and Sepulveda Blvds. and he suffered a wrenched back.

The personal injury suit was filed by the driver of the other car, Frank Verdugo, 32, a city fireman, his wife, Lucy, 25, and her brother, Eulalio Perea, 25, a produce market clerk. They are still hospitalized.

They allege that Crosby was driving in a "wanton and reckless" manner and "while under the influence of intoxicating liquors." The suit asserts that Crosby's "faculties were substantially impaired" by liquor and by lack of a "reasonable amount of rest or sleep."

Verdugo contends he and his wife suffered injuries of a permanent nature and that their sedan was completely wrecked.

Deputy Dist. Atty. George H. Johnson told a reporter: "Investigation by our office and by the California highway patrol has produced no evidence to indicate any criminal offense on the part of either driver involved in the Crosby accident."

Further Cuts In Foreign Aid Seen Possible

Europe's Economic Health Improving, Dollar Reserves Grow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials are considering further cuts in foreign economic aid on the theory that, because of Europe's improving economic health, they would not weaken its defense effort.

This administration reasoning is expected to be reflected in budget proposals to Congress next year for appropriations for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Improvements Noted

Economic improvements in Europe are measured, for example, by the expected achievement of a nine billion dollar total of gold and dollar reserves behind European currencies. Such gains are attributed not only to the prolonged U.S. assistance programs but to renewed confidence by the Europeans in themselves and to the cumulative effects of recovery from World War II destruction.

The economic prospects and outlook will be reviewed in Paris next week by the Organization for European Economic Cooperation (OEEC) which includes seventeen nations. Harold E. Stassen, President Eisenhower's chief of foreign operations, will attend in the role of observer. He is expected to tell the Europeans they can count on a relatively stable American economy for a long time in the future.

Next Appropriations

Stassen and his advisers estimate that the next round of congressional appropriations will show:

1. A further gradual decline in economic assistance to Europe.

2. An increase in assistance and development programs in the Middle East and Far East and an unchanged continuation of U. S. aid to Latin America.

These estimates have not yet been reduced to publicly known figures. However, funds appropriated for aid to Europe in the fiscal year ending next June 30, including help to France to carry on the war in Indochina, total 790 million dollars. This compares with a total of $128,000,000 made available for the same general purposes in the previous fiscal year.

Gen. Clark Takes College Presidency

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP) — Gen. Mark W. Clark will be the new president of The Citadel, state military college.

Announcement of Clark's acceptance came yesterday from Gov. James F. Byrnes. The governor is an ex-officio member of The Citadel's Board of Visitors.

The 57-year-old, four-star general retires from the Army Oct. 31, and is expected to begin his new job next March.

Clark succeeds Gen. Charles P. Summerall, former U. S. Army chief of staff who retired last June after 22 years as head of the Citadel.

WOMAN BURNS TO DEATH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Martha M. Riggs, 60, was burned to death sitting in a chair in her home in suburban Grandview Heights last night. Neighbors, who saw smoke, rushed in with garden hoses and put out the fire, unaware the woman was in the burning chair until they doused the flames.

Angered by Noise, Woman Shoots at Players and Police

CINCINNATI (AP) — Angered by shouting prep football players, a 62-year-old woman took pot shots at two students and then at Cincinnati policemen yesterday.

The police officers identified the woman as Mrs. Gertrude Thomason. They took her to General Hospital for observation.

Mrs. Thomason lives near the practice field used by the Ohio Military Institute.

Police said she shot at a station wagon, missing two cadets, Steve Smerekovsky of Cleveland and Jay Gatchett of Cincinnati.

She warned two policemen, who attempted to question her, to get off her property. She shot at them too but missed.

Her son, Raymond, 38, disarmed her with the help of police. He said his mother had been peeved at the noise on the football field.

Seven Injured In Six County Auto Crashes

Police Report Two Accidents; Remainder Occur on Area Roads

A total of seven injuries resulted in six Marion County accidents reported this morning by the police, the Marion station of the state highway patrol, and Marshal Edgar Fink of Caledonia.

Police reported two accidents resulting in one injury, while the state patrol investigated three accidents which resulted in four injuries. Two persons were injured in the Caledonia accident.

Suffers Eye Injury

Ronald Emmett Cox, 21, of near New Lexington, received a laceration above the right eye and abrasions of the right hand when his car was demolished when struck by a truck driven by Henry Schroat, 54, of near Marion, on Route 23 at the junction with County Road 106. The accident occurred at 7 55 a.m. Friday.

Schroat, who was west bound on 106, pulled on to Route 23 and hit Cox who was going south. There was minor damage to the truck.

Schroat was cited to appear in municipal court Monday on a charge of failure to yield the right of way.

Two people were taken to City Hospital with injuries resulting from an accident on Route 4, one mile south of Route 203, at 6 15 p.m. Friday.

The driver, Chester Dunn, 26, of 598 Darius St., was released after being treated for chest injuries. A passenger, James R. Shockey 27 of 464 W Center St., was reported in "fair'y good" condition this morning after being admitted with chest, jaw and side injuries.

The accident occurred when Dunn was going south and went off the road, striking a fence post and tearing up about 50 feet of fence belonging to George Thomas and John Jones, both of near Prospect. The car received considerable damage.

Woman Hurt

One woman was injured in an accident on County Road 120, two and one-half miles north of Route 203, at 4 45 p.m. yesterday.

Injured was Mrs. Georgia May Furstenberger, 54, of 621 Cleveland Ave., a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Arthur William Furstenberger 59. She was treated at City Hospital for a sprained neck and back.

Furtenberger had stopped facing south on a bridge when his car was struck by a car driven by Francis Marion Peters, 35, of near Marion. According to the patrol, Peters was north bound and had just come over a crest in the road which blocked his view and was unable to stop in time.

Serviceman Hurt Slightly

A serviceman from the Lockbourne Air Force Base in Columbus suffered a dislocated right shoulder in one of two accidents reported today by Marion police.

The man Thomas T Selph, 21 was injured when the truck he was driving struck the rear end of a car driven by Mr Martha E Simpson of 384 Willow St Friday at 2 33 p m at the corner of S Main St and Columbia St.

According to police reports, Mrs. Simpson was stopped when the truck struck her car No damage was done to the truck. The rear end of Mrs. Simpson's car was damaged.

Selph was taken to the office of Dr C J. Altmaier where he was treated.

The other accident, happened at the corner of W Center St. and Park Blvd According to police reports James A Smith 40, of 507 Blaire Ave was travelling east on W Center St when his car was struck by one which did not stop.

The police report lists the owner of the car as Donald Winebrenner of 422½ Olney Ave. It did not indicate whether Winebrenner was driving the vehicle at the time of the accident.

Smith's car was damaged in the front fender, while the right front fender of the other car was damaged.

Two Hospitalized

A Marion man and a Caledonia man were in "fairly good" condition this morning in Marion City Hospital following an accident Friday night at the N Main St. railroad crossing in Caledonia.

Sustaining head and ankle injuries was William Brammer of 410 Milburn Ave., who was driving, and Milo Henry of Caledonia received injuries about the mouth.

Caledonia Marshal Edgar Fink, who investigated the accident, reported that the south-bound automobile struck a concrete abutment near the crossing on which railroad flasher signals are mounted.

The front end of the automobile was demolished, Find said. Brammer was taken to the hospital in a Timson-Allen ambulance, while a passerby took Henry to the hospital.

Investigation of the accident is incomplete, Fink said.

people, will profit by it."

Body Found Sept. 18

First news in the murder case came a little over a month ago, on Friday, Sept. 18, when a Wyandot County highway department employe, discovered the body of a young woman, later to be identified as the 19-year-old Cynthia Pfeil, on a lonely county road.

Wyandot County Sheriff Dean McAllister and his staff, assisted by investigators from the London Prison Farm, immediately began the attempt of identifying the young victim.

Identity of the victim was hindered by the more than a dozen scars and marks inflicted on her face by the murderer in an effort to prevent identification.

Instrumental in identifying the body were the red ballerina-style shoes the girl was wearing when discovered. A check with a Columbus shoe manufacturer who made the shoes showed that they had been purchased in White Plains. There, a shoe clerk remembered selling the shoes to Miss Pfeil.

Her brother, Robert Pfeil, of Columbus, viewed the body, and the identity was made.

Confesses After Questioning

Schinagle was picked up later at Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware, and after several hours of questioning confessed the killing.

His story was that she had left a job in Cleveland, going to Delaware and meeting him for a tryst in an old shack on the university grounds. There he said a quarrel developed, and he strangled her. He put her in his automobile and took her toward Upper Sandusky. He said he shook her several times to see if she was still alive, and that she moaned several times.

Then he said he stopped his car at the woods near Upper Sandusky and beat her over the head with an iron bar. He said he got back into the car and returned to the university.

Question Still Unanswered

Cynthia was wearing the nightgown when the couple quarreled and officials never learned why she was so attired at the spot where Schinagle said he strangled her, at a deserted shack on a practice football field.

Later officials determined that Cynthia, very much in love with Schinagle, was pregnant, that she had left her White Plains home to be near him in Ohio. She had worked for several weeks in a Cleveland department store before meeting Schinagle in Delaware.

Schinagle maintained to officers that he "didn't know what he was doing" when he strangled Cynthia and later beat her with the iron bar.

'Inside Ohio' Magazine Story Describes Growth of Marion

"The Ohio city where first things come first" is the way Marion is described in an article featuring Marion which appears in the November issue of the magazine "Inside Ohio."

Scheduled to reach subscribers this week—end, the magazine in its article goes briefly into the early beginnings of Marion when Eber Baker first laid out the town as a real estate speculation in 1822, and follows Marion's development to the present.

Front Porch Campaign

Marion, described in the four-page article as "a middle-sized county seat in west-central Ohio in the great central farming plains," gained national prominence with Warren G. Harding's famous front porch campaign in 1920. This, the article claims, influenced a national impression of Marion as "another of those pleasant rural county seat towns distinguished by old houses and older red-brick stores on the main street."

But, within the last 10 years or so, this has all changed, because "behind those old red—brick walls there is modernism of a particularly active sort."

"That's they way Marion has gotten, in the last four years," the article goes on, "the biggest and finest high school in the whole nation for a city this size, the most modern city-county general hospital in Ohio, the amazing Veteran's Memorial Coliseum, and a brand new YMCA building."

Also discussed as being part of future plans for Marion are the railroad crossing elimation survey, the downtown shopping center, a city-county civic center, and a home-rule charter commission.

Mentioned as playing an influential role in the community's progress is the Chamber of Commerce and its executive secretary, H. E. "Pop" Webster.

New Industries

Among the industries coming to Marion in the last several years are the B. F. Goodrich Co., the Eaton Manufacturing Co., Marion Industries Division of Motor Products, and Ken-L-Ration Division of the Quaker Oats Co., the magazine points out.

Illustrating the article are eight photographs.

Distribution of the monthly magazine in Ohio is sponsored by the Ohio Federation of Women's Club. The November issue is expected to reach Marion news stands the first of the week.

gone dry, most farmers in the area have felt the consequences of the drought.

Norman Bates, who lives on State Route 239, southwest of Marion, pointed to his dried out farm pond and said he had never seen anything like the way the water had disappeared during the last two months. He said the pond had been dry now since the beginning of August, and would probably not fill up until next spring.

Usually he said, there are hundreds of ducks and geese on the pond during the migrating season. With the pond dry there are none this year.

A little east of Bates' farm, Merle V. Lashey Jr. was burning a fallen tree in the middle of the Honey Run stream. He said it was the first time in his memory the stream, which originates at Owens' Quarry, had ever been dry for such a long time.

Down at the Delaware Reservior, three hunters were seen walking over part of the reservoir which once was filled with water. Their tracks were clear in the mud which was left when about 100 square yards of the area dried up.

Workmen from Ashley were busy pumping water into trucks loaned by the Marion Engineer Depot. They were taking the water from the Olentangy River, just before it entered the reservoir. The water was then sent back to Ashley to relieve that town.

Two Here Charged In Auto Pilfering

Two men arrested Thursday night and held Friday for investigation were charged with petty larceny this morning. The two, Theodore Caldwell of 851 N. State St. and Charles Ray Smith, 27, of 843 N. State St., were charged with pilfering the car of Ray Sherman of near Richwood.

According to police, Sherman called and said he had seen two men taking articles from his automobile which was parked in the Union Depot drive. He gave the license number of the car the men used to make their escape.

Police found the license belonged to Smith. They intercepted the car at the corner of N. Prospect and W. Fairground Sts. Caldwell, whom police say was intoxicated, reportedly struck at arresting officers, while Smith submitted.

Police report finding several articles in Smith's car taken from Sherman's auto. Besides the petty larceny charge, Caldwell is also facing charges of intoxication and resisting arrest.

In Municipal Court today, both men weer fined $75 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in county jail on the petty larceny charge. In addition, Caldwell was fined an additional $75 and costs and sentenced to 30 more days in jail on the intoxication and resisting arrest charges.

Innocent Plea Entered In Manslaughter Trial

Robert Massie, 40, of Morral pleaded not guilty to charges of second—degree manslaughter and driving while intoxicated at a hearing in municipal court yesterday.

He was bound over to grand jury on the manslaughter charge with bond set a $5,000. A $150 bond was set on the driving while intoxicated charge.

Massie is being held in the county jail until he posts the two bonds.

FIRE DAMAGES HOME

New Bloomington volunteer firemen answered a call at 9 30 this morning at the home of Clarence Young in New Bloomington where a flooded oil heater exploded. No damage estimate has been made as yet, but outside of the heater only slight damage was reported.

County Farmers To Be Polled On Opinions on Federal Policy

In compliance with a request by Ezra T. Benson, secretary of agriculture, the Marion County Farm Bureau is preparing to register the opinions of Marion County farmers as to what is wanted by way of federal farm policy.

In June of this year, Secretary Benson asked the major farm organizations to make such a study and report to his department by the year's end.

'Kensel E. Clutter, president of the board of directors of the Marion County Farm Bureau, announced today that four community meetings have been arranged in Marion County.

In explaining the procedures to be followed Clutter explained "Prepared questionnaires will be answered, whereby each farmer may register his preference for or against price support programs and the extent of such supports, two price systems, government crop insurance, extent of commodity reserves, loan agreements, agricultural conservation program payment, farm credit facilities, foreign trade and research. No individual names will be used, but summaries of our county opinions will be forwarded to Columbus for a total state analysis, and fitted into the results of the national study for the ultimate presentation to the Department of Agriculture."

Clutter emphasized that all farmers are urged to participate in one of the meetings, either the one nearest home, or on the most convenient date. Similar meetings are now being held in all parts of the United States to make the study.

On Tuesday Oct. 27 at 8 p.m., Troy DeLong of Green Camp Township will serve as chairman for the first meeting to be held at the Green Camp Town Hall. He will be assisted by Robert Uncapher of Big Island township, and John Owens of Bowling Green township.

On Thursday evening Oct. 28 two meetings will be held. Frank Heimlich of Richland Township will preside at a meeting at the Waldo School Farm Shop and will be assisted by Wayland Temple of Waldo Township and Alfred Laucher of Richland Township. A meeting at the Grand Prairie School ' 'orium will be conducted by Kensel Clutter of Scott township, assisted by Eldon Beers of Scott Township and Everett Douce of Tully Township.

The final meeting will be conducted at the Mecker School Auditorium, with Dwight Heckathorn of Grand Township presiding, assisted by J. Lewis Hafer of Montgomery Township and Emerson McKelvy of Salt Rock Township.

Charter

to change their form of city government.

WHAT FORMS of government are possible for a city?

The National Municipal League has listed five general forms of government common in U. S. cities. The Marion Home Rule Study committee also lists five forms possible under Ohio law. The two lists differ in some respects but are mostly the same.

The League lists the mayor-council, the "strong" mayor-council, the commission, the city manager, and the mayor-administrator types.

The local committee lists the mayor-council, the commission, and the council-manager types and the federal and home rule plans.

THE MAYOR-COUNCIL type is the present form of city government in Marion. The city manager, commission, and federal plan forms are available as optional forms of city government under state law. But any Ohio city which adopts one of these "optional" plans must set it up exactly as prescribed by the state legislature, which affords no consideration of specific local problems, the committee maintains.

On the other hand the fifth possibility, the home rule charter, permits a city to adopt any of these plans or variations of them tailored to meet the specific needs of the city.

Brief descriptions of three of what appear to be the least popular of these forms—the commission, mayor - administrator, and federal plans - - - follow. The "strong" mayor-council—and the other general forms will be described in another in this series of articles.

THE COMMISSION form is said to have developed some serious weaknesses, according to the Municipal League.

This form was first used in Galveston Tex., in 1900 when it was conceived and adopted as an emergency measure following a tidal wave disaster in that city.

It generally has two main characteristics which are: 1. five commissioners elected at large by majority vote to serve as a legislative body, and 2. each commissioner heads an administrative department.

While it offered apparent simplicity, this plan has been found to contain several defects. Among these are that it lends itself easily to political manipulation, does not provide successfully for competent department heads or other personnel, lacks a single unifying responsible executive, and provides no adequate brakes on government spending, the Municipal League says.

It also is claimed this form is so conducive to buck-passing that although the voter needs make only five choices at the polls he does not know who to blame for bad government or who to praise for good government.

The mayor-administrator plan is a varition of the strong mayor-council plan. Its chief difference is that it involved the employment of a chief administrative officer by the mayor and is an attempt to combine professional administration with an executive who is elected. The Municipal League reports only a few cities have ever tried this plan.

THE APPOINTED administrative officer tends to become a glorified secretary of the mayor under this system, according to the League. Because the elected official has full authority to hire and fire the administrative officer this leads to the use of political influence, the League says.

The federal plan is a system in which only the council and mayor are elected (excepting the judge of the Municipal Court, and they are elected on a non-partisan ballot.

The mayor serves a four-year term and appoints the safety-service director, the treasurer, and the solicitor. The council appoints the auditor.

Chief objection to this plan, at least locally, is the non-partisan election of top executive and legislative officers. No Ohio city is reported to have adopted this system, although Zanesville is said to have a charter which provides government similar to it.

Razing of School To Be Completed Within Ten Days

Razing of Forest Lawn elementary school building is expected to be completed within 10 days, according to E. Paul Huffman, business manager of the Marion school system.

Tearing down of the building, located on E. Church St. between Forest Lawn Blvd. and Reed Ave. began about three weeks ago after the Board of Education decided to raze the Forest Lawn building and to board up the Greenwood elementary school. Re—districting of the city's public school system in connection with the school expansion program meant that students formerly attending the two abandened elementary schools would attend Vernon and George Washington elementary schools this year.

The Forest Lawn razing is being done by the Linden Wrecking Co. from Columbus, which also tore down the old Central High School on W. Center St. and the old State Street School where the Robert A. Taft Junior High now is.

The Greenwood building is being used for storage of furniture which has been replaced by new furnishings in the city's schools.

Future plans for either the Greenwood building or the Forest Lawn site are indefinite, City school superintendent Lester L. Dickey commented that at the present time both buildings are just "inactive" and that there are "no plans at all" for selling. "Other cities" he said, "have found it wise not to move quickly."

Communist and Allied officers at Panmunjom finally agreed Saturday that the preliminary talks will be held on the armistice demarcation line. The Communists had insisted that the meetings be held in the village of Panmunjom, which is north of the demarcation line.

Agreement on the conference site still must be approved by the Allied and Communist high commands.

2 More Grass Fires Reported

Leaf, Lumber Blazes Get Out of Control

Two more grass and leaf fires occurred in Marion Friday. One was set while a woman was burning leaves, the other as a man burned a pile of lumber.

At 5 18 p.m. firemen from the Central Station were called to Prospect Pike and Barks Rd. south of the city where a pile of burning leaves had set to grass owned by John Wells. Fire department reports indicate Mrs. Wells had set the leaves on fire, and then was unable to control the flames. No property loss was reported.

At 10 p.m., Felix Reber was burning a pile of wood on the Himan Ford Road, northwest of the city. Sparks from the fire ignited leaves, grass and the woods in the area. The fire was extinguished by the township fire truck. No property loss was reported.

At 7 17 p.m., a car caught fire at the Big Bear Market parking lot. According to fire department reports. The fire was caused by gas leaking from the fuel pump and igniting on the hot motor. Wires from the dashboard were burned off, causing a loss of $10. Owner of the car was Harry Frye of 336½ Fahey St.

A fire in the auto owned by Harley Cook of 628 Wilson Ave. caused an estimated $10 loss Friday at 9 09 p.m. a short circuit caused wires under the dashboard to burn. The fire was put out by men from the Mark St. Station.

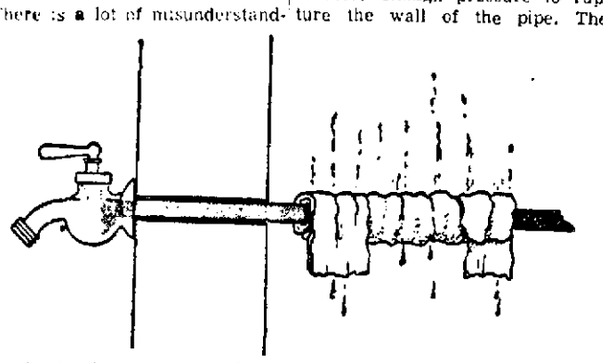
YOUR HOME . . . Today and Tomorrow

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

The coming winter will see the usual hundreds of thousands of frozen and burst water pipes in homes throughout the country, and will see exactly the same number of homeowners trying to thaw them out.

There is a lot of misunderstanding about what makes a frozen pipe burst. Most people think the ice formed inside a pipe causes the burst as it forms. That is not a fact. The pipe bursts when the ice starts to melt. The explanation is very simple. Ice starts to form immediately inside the pipe where it is exposed to the cold, and continues to build up around the wall of the pipe. It gradually closes in toward the center, until there is a solid core completely closing the pipe. At no time during the formation of the ice is there enough pressure to rupture the wall of the pipe. The real damage comes when sudden high heat is applied to the outside of the pipe. This causes the ice to expand suddenly while the pipe is choked up solid.



The most dangerous thing you can do is to hold a blow torch against a frozen pipe. It will undoubtedly cause a burst, unless you are very lucky, because the ice will expand with a leap and rupture anything short of an extra-heavy pipe or one made of brass or copper.

The right way to thaw a pipe out is to fill a pail with hot water and soak a lot of old cloths in it. Wring out the cloths and wrap them around the pipe as illustrated. There is not enough heat in this to cause a rapid expansion of the ice and the pipe will thaw gradually. When you hear a very distinct crackling sound you will know that the core of ice is broken.

This is probably an excellent time to remind everyone that all pipes leading to the outdoors should be shut off inside the house or in the cellar and the outside valves or faucets left open wide.

Aid for the Ailing House

By ROGER WHITMAN

Q: I have a couple of leaky places in my basement. One seems to be a crack in the cement between two of the blocks next to the floor. The other is where the cement floor joins the cement blocks. Is there anything that will satisfactorily seal these places or at least stop the leaks temporarily?

A: To repair the crack in the mortar joint between the concrete blocks, rake out the old mortar to a depth of a half inch or more. Brush out all loose particles and wet the inner surfaces with water. Pack the space with a fairly stiff, but workable, mixture of one part Portland cement and three parts of clean, coarse sand. Keep the patch damp for several days to prevent the mortar from drying out too fast. The joint between the floor and wall should be cut to make a deep groove. After brushing out all loose particles, wet the concrete surfaces and pack with a mortar mixture as suggested above. Hot tar or asphalt can be substituted for the mortar. If the latter materials are used be sure the groove is perfectly dry and clean.

Q: One side of my dining room table squeaks, although it is only five years old. Have you any suggestions? I tried pouring wax in the cracks, but it didn't help any.

A: Squeaks in furniture indicate looseness at the joints. Usually such joints can be tightened by locating the proper screws and securing them as firmly as possible. If the joints are glued, regluing is necessary.

Q: We have six steps of plain stained hardwood leading upstairs. What could I use to cover them, with accent on ease of keeping them clean? I do not care for the conventional carpeting.

A: Vinyl plastic tile should fill your bill nicely. It is very durable, easy to clean, and comes in a considerable variety of colors.

Q: Can floor tile be laid satisfactorily over old inlaid linoleum?

A: It is rarely possible to get good results, because the chances are that constant traffic in various spots has worn low places in the linoleum. The floor should be perfectly smooth and flat for tile.

Q: What disadvantage or bad affect would there be by placing a cover over the attic louvres and stopping circulation of cold air? We feel that by doing so we could decrease the amount of fuel used.

A Closing the louvers in the wintertime may lead to trouble when, and if, moisture or condensation occurs on the underside of the roof boards. Lacking ventilation, moisture and condensation would accumulate in the form of frost, and, when a thaw would set in, the frost would melt, running down the ceiling and into the walls. This causes damage to plaster, paint and wallpaper. Closing the louvers would have practically no effect in increasing the temperature in the attic and would have no affect on the amount of fuel used.

Christmas Merchandise Pushed by Wholesalers

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Christmas shopping got going strong this week—at the wholesale level.

Merchants hope to tie or better last year's record take from American gift givers. And there are signs that the competition for the consumer's dollar is going to be the keenest ever.

Everyone from piano makers to match book manufacturers are urging dealers to push their particular product as the perfect gift.

They are aiming not only at the great mass of family and individual givers but also at the big business gift market. Business firms are expected to spend 300 million dollars to spread good will among their customer, suppliers and the cop on the beat.

A rising call for many items in preparation for the Christmas sales season is reported this week by wholesalers. Dun & Bradstreet report today gains in early ordering lead most wholesalers to predict this year will see their best dollar on Yule gift buying. Rising demand is reported for toys, apparel, radios, phonographs, and small appliances.

Retailers usually do around one-fourth of their annual sales volume in November and December. Since last year saw the biggest Christmas business on record, merchants this year will have to strain to top it. But some say they expect business to be up by five to 10 per cent.

The competitive battle for the Christmas gift dollar is fast shaping up as different types of stores strive to move in on the market or increase their share of it.

The nation's 47,000 independent druggists, for example, in the past saw most of the Christmas business going to larger retailers. The corner drug store usually got only that last-minute shopper.

But this year the Druggists' Supply Corp., a merchandising organization for 159 wholesale drug firms, has teamed up with 37 manufacturers to furnish druggists with some seven million copies of a gift catalog. It lists gift ideas ranging from electric coffee makers to rubber giraffes that can be bought at the drug store. The sponsors think it ought to boost sales by four million dollars this Christmas.

Rank Next to Painting

Insulation Projects Tops With Do-It-Yourselfers

By DAVID G. BARENTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

People used to be considered slightly crazy if it was said they had bats in the belfry. Today lots of people are crazy to have batts in the attic—batts or blankets of insulation. The reason is these batts can add a lot of comfort to you and your budget.

The Mineral Wool Association recently called our attention to a survey showing that insulation ranks next to painting as the most popular project among home handymen.

"Speaking of the do-it-yourself market," said the mineral wool man, "there's a new type of home builder entering the field in increasing numbers. He's the home owner, who hires a contractor to do the heavy work, while he does a lot of the finishing and fitting himself.

"WHAT KIND OF work does the homeowner do? Small Homes Guide, a highly regarded publication, made a survey to find out. Here's the surprising answer.

"Some of the painting was done by 13.3 per cent—all of the painting by 61 per cent—total 74.3 per cent.

"Some of the insulation work was done by 10.7 per cent—all of it by 53.4 per cent—total 64.4 per cent."

FOR YOUR information, or consolation, other total figures ran in this order:

Flooring 59.3 per cent; woodwork 58.2 per cent; hardware 57.3 per cent; framing 54 per cent; wiring 51.1 per cent; roofing 49.4 per cent; masonry 49.2 per cent; plumbing 43.8 per cent; heating 38.4 per cent; paper hanging 25.4 per cent.

Finishing extra rooms in attics has been one of the biggest factors in the do-it-yourself boom. The wartime baby boom, the number of small homes built with expansion attics, the natural growth of families, have made it necessary to enlarge houses.

A NEW BOOKLET, "How to Finish Off Your Attic," is now being distributed through lumber dealers and building supply houses by the Owens - Corning Fiberglas Corp. So many readers have written to this department asking if books have been written on this subject, that they will be glad to know that this booklet is available free.

Reducing the project to seven simple steps, the booklet is packed with practical advice for the amateur. Walter C. Skuce, manager of the residential building materials division of the company, says publication of the booklet was prompted "by the increasingly strong do-it-yourself trend that has boomed sales of paints, power tools and many other items."

"THE DEPARTMET of Commerce," Mr. Skuce says, "estimates more than 3½ billion dollars will be spent this year in residential maintenance and repair. This is about double the 1946 home improvement outlay and our company's market research division estimates the figure will approach 5 billion dollars in annual investment by 1960.

"It is to the fast-growing class of handyman householders that this booklet on attics is directed. While the booklet describes work a home owner may do himself, due recognition is also given to the advisability of enlisting services of skilled professionals for difficult phases of the project."

This Fireplace Revolves

'ROUND THE HEARTH. Mrs. Robert Thrun and two of her three children enjoy the revolving fireplace she designed. Wife of a New York lawyer, she designed it for the family's summer home at Sullivan, Me. It is built from a steel tank, four feet in diameter, and can be turned to send heat toward the dining, kitchen or living areas of the big room in the modern, one-story dwelling.

The fireplace is mounted on a truck wheel bearing and has brakes to keep it from turning too fast.

Mrs. Thrun—her winter home is at Croton-on-the-Hudson, N. Y.—studied architecture at Columbia University. She also designed the summer home

The Thruns have three children, Sally, Roberta and Robert Jr.

The grocers' convention which was the largest ever held in Ohio was in progress Sunday through Wednesday. Highlight of the meeting was an address on Tuesday night by Rep. Wright Patman who spoke on "Protecting the Consumer with Effective Competition"

Plans for New Mill Approved

Farm Bureau Board Authorizes Buildings

Directors of the Marion County Farm Bureau Cooperative Association have approved preliminary plans for a new mill, elevator and warehouse to be built at an estimated cost of $120 000, Robert Eisele, president of the board of directors, announced today.

The new construction will replace the Farm Bureau buildings on Park Blvd. which were destroyed by fire June 26

The new buildings will be erected on Bellefontaine Ave. near the C & O tracks on a seven and one-half acre lot owned by the Farm Bureau since 1944 The old buildings stood on a plot rented from the Pennsylvania Railroad

Construction is expected to begin late this year.

The planning and Development Division of the Ohio Farm Bureau Association drew up the preliminary plans and is now working out the final details and specifications prior to the letting of contracts

Eisele also announced that some $60,000 worth of securities have been sold so far to finance the venture. The Association plans to raise $100,000 for the construction through the sale of securities.

Gamefish Junction is a name sometimes applied to Cape Hatteras, N.C., by fishermen because it is the northernmost range of many southern fish, and as far south as some species of northern fish penetrate.

Eber Baker Wins Round Robin Action

1,200 Watch Champs Down Taft 26-0, Tie Edison 0-0

By GARY SAMS

Eber Baker won the annual Round Robin at the Stadium before an estimated 1,200 persons Friday night.

The Marion Junior High Football League champs rolled past Taft 26-0 and were tied by Edison 0-0 but Taft came back to deadlock Edison in another 0-0 game.

The Baker crew wasted little time in scoring against Taft in the abbreviated opener. It recovered the opening kickoff at the losers' 41 after it glanced off a Taft lineman. Bill Smith carried the ball over from the 23 on a reverse several plays later. He was stopped in a running attempt for the extra point.

Taft moved the ensuing kickoff from its own 37 to the Baker 16 where its attack bogged down Baker moved from there to its second score, with Smith again going into the end zone, this time from 33 yards out off tackle. Dick Ulery converted to give the winners a 13-0 lead early in the second period.

A fumble of the ensuing kickoff at the Taft 48 gave Baker the ball there. Moments later, it was Dick Dennis going over on a short reverse from the 32-yard [illegible] following [illegible] off to its 31 where a bad pass from center was recovered by Baker at the enemy 15-yard line. Baker moved to the three-inch line where Joe Patrick went around end for the final tally. The extra point attempt was stopped on a running play.

Each squad moved into the other's territory in the following scoreless deadlock between Baker and Edison but weren't able to score.

Edison returned the opening kickoff from its 20 to the Baker 47 but was forced to give up the ball on a punt after moving to the 37. Putting the ball in play at the 20, Baker moved all the way to the Edison 21 where it was stopped. With three minutes left in the game, Baker took over the ball at its 38 and moved into Edison territory where a Jed Middleton pass was intercepted by Bob Lister at the Edison 30 and returned to the Baker 40. Edison advanced no further as the game closed.

Taft was within one-foot of a touchdown in the finale' which ended in another scoreless tie. Returning the opening kickoff from its 41 to the Edison one-foot line a fumble on a third down play at the one halted the drive. Edison moved out and marched to the Taft 34 where its attack bogged down.

The Taft squad then took the ball to Edison's 39-yard stripe where it gave up the ball on a punt. Edison moved the ball out to the 44 from its 20 on a pass interference ruling as the tilt ended.

Edison was the defending Round Robin champ. George Whitehead's squad rolled over State and Vernon in a pair of two eight-minute quarter games last year. Proceeds from the annual carnival helps defray junior high school football expenses.

League Lead at Stake

St. Mary, Richwood Squads Tangle Tonight at Stadium

An old football rivalry takes on added emphasis at Harding Stadium tonight when St. Mary and Richwood battle for first place in the Mid-Ohio Conference.

The teams go into the contest tied for first with 2-0 records in league play.

St. Mary will be trying for its fifth consecutive shutout against a team that has won four of its five starts this season.

Coach Ray Robbins' commented on the game by saying, "We'll need everything we've got against Richwood. They're up for the game."

Fortunately the Irish are expected to be at full strength. Several members of the squad were shaken up during the course of last week's 20-0 victory over Columbus St. Mary, but they all should be ready to go.

Robbins' lineup will be touchby the same one that has seen most of the action so far this fall. On the offensive line it will be Pat O'Connor and Don Shoemaker on the ends, John Kelly and Ed Quinn at the tackles, Jerry Ballenger and Bob Campton playing the guards, and Jack Schnitzler at [illegible] will handle the quarterback position with Mike Anderson at right half and John Messenger or Ted Kilbury at left half. Larry Ryan will be in the fullback position.

Defensively, Robbins will use just about the same team with some juggling of positions.

The only two changes in personnel will find Mitchell and Shoemaker coming out to make room for Dick Mautz and either Messenger or Kilbury, whichever one is not already in the ballgame.

O'Connor and Mautz will be at the ends on defense with Quinn and Schnitzler at the tackles and Campton and Kelly in the center of the line. Ryan and Ballenger will back up the line with Anderson and Kilbury in the halfback slots and Messenger at safety.

Tiger Coach Fritz Drodetsky lists a starting line that has Fred Cheney and John Coder at the ends, John Smith and John Fry at tackles, Bill Randall and Max Hoffman in the guard slots and Dave Allen over the ball.

In his backfield he has Tom Shields calling signals with Jim Fox and Bob Roberts in the halfback positions and Larry Chapman at full.

In conference play this year, St. Mary blanked Mt. Gilead 36-0, while Richwood shutout Elm Valley 12-0. Both played Cardington, the Irish winning 27-0 and Richwood coming out on top 26-7.

After tonight each team has one league game left—St. Mary going against Elm Valley and Richwood meeting Mt. Gilead.

Outside of the conference St. Mary upset Lima St. Rose 7-0 and downed Columbus St. Mary 20-0. Richwood lost out to Marysville 20-6 but slipped by Carey and Big Walnut by 13-7 scores.

LaRue Defends Victory String

LaRue continued its undefeated streak last night as it notched its fifth victory of the year, a decisive 52-6 rout against Marengo.

Getting off to a fast start with 22-0 lead in the first quarter, LaRue scored almost at will. The only thing that kept the score from going higher was the fact that the game was called because of the score mid-way through the fourth period.

Larry Heckman was the top scorer of the evening, accounting for four touchdowns and five drop kick conversions for a total of 34 points. Other LaRue touchdowns were added by Wayne Thompson, Joe Parish, and Glenn G. Cooper, F. Cooper, Hosey, Robenz, W. Parish, G. Parish and Snyder; centers, Redd, P. Weiss, Lightfoot, James and Whitman; and backs, Hughes, J. Weiss, Tate, Thompson, Boyer, Clay, John Weist, Heckman, Blue, Isem.

Leahy Sees No Hope

Tech Grid Team Confident Despite Role as Underdog

NEW YORK (AP)—Mighty Notre Dame, the No. 1 team in the country, meets its most formidable foe of the season today—Georgia Tech, nursing an undefeated streak of 31 games and with high hopes of extending the skein to 32 by the time the battle is over.

The Ramblin' Wrecks swept into South Bend, Ind., confident they can lick Frank Leahy's powerpacked Irish even though the professional oddsmakers have made the engineers 7½ point underdogs.

This is the big one of a day that could shed light on several conference races and perhaps even decide a couple of bowl participants. In the Big 10, Michigan must beat Minnesota to stay in the race, while in the Pacific Coast Conference the big one is Southern California and California. It behooves the Trojans to get past Cal in their race for the Rose Bowl.

And in the always - wacky Southwest Conference, Baylor, the shaky favorite rates only 7 points over the Texas Aggies. Rice, the early season favorite, plays Texas. Baylor is No. 6 in the Associated Press poll but in the scramble for the Southwest Conference title and the Cotton Bowl bid that goes with it, any of the others could sneak in.

Maryland, rated No. 8 in the country right behind Notre Dame and Michigan State, won't have any worries. The Terps played Miami last night and enjoyed a brisk workout to the tune of 30-0. With ace quarterback Bernie Faloney handing the ball, Jim Tatum's lads scored three touchdowns in the first 13 minutes then played under wraps the rest of the way.

Leahy's pre battle statement was a gloomy one, indeed:

"Georgia Tech is a truly great team," he said. "I wouldn't be surprised if it was the fastest team in the whole nation. I just hope Coach Bobby Dodd is in a merciful mood."

Although the Tech players are on record as believing they can beat the Irish, Dodd was not going to be outdone by Leahy.

"I don't see how we can be considered to have better than a fair outside chance," he observed.

Michigan State has a soft assignment in Purdue in a Big 10 meeting. Illinois, another league power, entertains Syracuse in an intersectional game. Oklahoma, the defending champion in the Big 7, plays Colorado in a conference game West Virginia No 9, tackles Virginia Military Institute.

Of all the schools in the first 10, Navy seems to be in the most precarious position. The Middies, who slaughtered Princeton last week, tangle with Penn, a rugged crew despite a couple of defeats.

There is no one television game of the week. Instead, four games will be televised in a panoramic experiment with the scene shifting from one to another, wherever the action is hottest. The viewers around the country will get snatches of the Princeton-Cornell, Illinois-Syracuse, Iowa - Indiana and Arkansas - Mississippi games over NBC starting at 2:45 p.m. (EST.)

Purse Held Up After Langlois Drops Decision

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Here you are folks, read all about the new French mystery, "cherchez la flu."

"Did Pierre Langlois of France have the flu last night when he lost a split 10-round decision to Garth Panter in Madison Square Garden? Well, he did and he didn't.

Pierre had the bad cold—the flu—yesterday," said Co-manager Jean Bretonnel. "But we did not wish to—how you say—disappoint Monsieur Billy Brown, (Garden matchmaker)."

As George Kantor picked up the same chanson (song), and Langlois sat with his head down on a rubbing table, in came Dr. Vincent Nardiello, the New York State Athletic Commission physician, accompanied by Dan Dowd, executive secretary of the commission.

"Flu" Nuts," said the irate doctor. "He was in perfect physical condition, no temperature, no flu, no cold."

Kantor, alarmed at the sudden turn of events, said, "No, it wan't the flu. Just a cold."

"Cold? Nuts," shouted the doctor as he stomped out.

"Fellows, it wasn't any cold," said Kantor to boxing writers. "He was in good shape. He just had heavy legs."

Dowd, who had remained in the room, walked to the co-managers and talked to them a few minutes before he walked out.

Then the word came that Langlois' purse had been held up and a hearing set for Monday morning.

Asked if this report was true, Bretonnel shook his head sadly. "Yes, it is a big mistake. He was in fine condition."

In sharp contrast with the sell-out crowd at Wednesday's Bobo Olson-Randy Turpin title match, only a small crowd, estimated at 2,500 paying $5,000, saw the nationally televised bout.

The body punching Panther from Salt Lake City took the votes of the judges, Artie Aidala and Harold Barres, 5-4-1. Referee Ray Miller had Langlois on top 5-4-1. The AP card was 5-5.

Langlois who weighed 157¾ was a 1 to 3 favorite over Panter, 159. It was a sad day for La Belle France. Charles Humez had been knocked out by Ernie Durando of Bayonne, N. J., at Paris in the afternoon.

Panter wants Durando next. Langlois wants his purse.

Matchmaker Brown had only one comment.

"Langlois' temperature only went up when he heard the decision."

Marysville Jumps Win Streak to Six

MARYSVILLE — The Monarchs notched their sixth straight win here last night with a 13-0 verdict over Worthington in a Mid-Six League game.

It gave the Marysville team a record of four wins in league play. The winners scored once in the first period when Dick Orahood plunged over from the one to climax a 76-yard march.

The clincher came in the final frame when Dick Shearer ended a 56-yard drive by scooting over from the four-yard marker.

Badgers Seek First OSU Win In Seven Years

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Wisconsin's Badgers, with sophomore Jim Miller at the throttle, bid for their second Big 10 victory today against Ohio State, a team they haven't beaten in seven years.

The Badgers, defending their conference co-championship, added a new series of plays to their offensive book this week to take advantage of young Miller's brilliant running from the quarterback slot.

The youngster scored twice, once on a 51-yard sprint, in his debut last week at Purdue and Coach Ivy Williamson inserted a set of maneuvers designed to spring him for the home fans.

Ohio State, tipped by Illinois in its only Big 10 start, is expected to get only token service from ace quarterback John Borton who was injured two weeks ago, but will present a brisk running game pegged on halfbacks Bob Watkins and Howard (Hopalong) Cassady.

A capacity crowd of 51,000 will be on hand at Camp Randall for the Badger's first home showing in three weeks.

College All-Stars Learn Cage Lesson

CHICAGO (AP)—It took the College All-Stars 30 minutes to learn how to play big league basketball last night but when they caught on they gave the professional champion Minneapolis Lakers 10 minutes of expert tutelage.

Unfortunately for the collegians, they learned their lesson too late and the Lakers emerged with a shaky 70-65 decision in this 14th game of the annual series.

It was the eighth win for pro teams, the fifth for the Lakers.

George Mikan, Jim Pollard and others of the National Basketball Assn. crew piled up what appeared to be an extremely comfortable margin through the first three periods. They led 16-4 at the quarter, 41-22 at the half and 57-36 going into the final frame.

But then the college boys, sparked by Illinois' Irv Bemoras, gave the standing-room-only crowd of 21,987 virtual unanimous in favor of the All-Stars—a chance to holler.

Mathews, Piersall Win Laurels for Second Year Play

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Mathews, baseball's new home run king, couldn't keep pace with Babe Ruth's great home run record last season but he did well enough to win the National League sophomore-of-the-year honors in a breeze today.

The 22-year-old Milwaukee slugger who poled 47 home runs to end Ralph Kiner's seven - year reign, was named on all but five of the 179 ballots cast by members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America in the annual Associated Press poll.

Mathews joins outfielder Jimmy Piersall of the Boston Red Sox for sophomore honors. Piersall was voted the No. 1 sophomore of the American League yesterday, beating out Whitey Ford, New York Yankee southpaw, 96 votes to 67.

Browns Play Giants

Lions and 49ers To Meet In Pro Loop's Top Battle

NEW YORK (AP)—The defending champion Detroit Lions tangle with the San Francisco 49ers tomorrow in what looms as the big National Football League game on a full slate of six weekend tilts.

The Frisco club, playing at home, will be out to reverse a 24-21 decision it dropped to the Lions in Detroit two weeks ago. This one should go a long way toward deciding the winner of the Western Conference title. Both clubs, along with the powerful Los Angeles Rams, are tied for the lead with three wins and one loss apiece.

Tonight, the Green Bay Packers take on the Pittsburgh Steelers in Pittsburgh. The other action tomorrow pits the unbeaten Cleveland Browns against the New York Giants, the Chicago Bears and Los Angeles, the Philadelphia Eagles and the Chicago Cardinals and the Washington Redskins and the Baltimore Colts.

Otto Graham, headed for his greatest season, puts his passing to its toughest test of the young season when his Browns meet the underdog but dangerous Giants.

While pitching the Browns to four straight victories, Graham completed 69 of 12 passes for 1,165 yards and five touchdowns—an average of 10 40 yards a peg, which lead the National Football League.

Los Angeles, mainly depending on the pitches of Norm Van Brocklin, appears a good bet to continue on top in the Western Division. The Bears have been a disappointment so far with only one victory in four starts.

Washington, which led Cleveland for most of the going last week, only to lose out in the final quarter, again will depend on the tosses of rookie Jack Scarbarth and Eddie Lebaron. Baltimore will be anxious to look good before the home folks, particularly against their "neighborhood" rival.

The Cardinals will be seeking their first win of the season in their game with the Eagles. They've dropped four in a row so far and Philadelphia stands 1-2-1.

Green Bay, off its resounding 37-14 victory over Baltimore last Sunday, may spring an upset over Pittsburgh tonight. The Steelers are listed as seven-point favorites.

Elm Valley Drops Mt. Gilead Indians

MT. GILEAD — Mt. Gilead's Indians turned in their best grid performance of the year here last night but fell before the Elm Valley Aces 12-6.

After a scoreless first period, a Mt. Gilead punt rolled dead at the Aces' 10-yard stripe. The visitors then started a 90-yard touchdown march which was climaxed when Walt Borchers plowed over from the one on a quarterback sneak.

John Staley, fullback, gathered in the following kickoff at the Mt Gilead 22 and raced all the way to tie the score. In the third frame, the Indians fumbled at their 40 and Elm Valley recovered. Forty yards later, Vanausdale plunged over guard from the one for the winning point. The local team plays Richwood next Thursday night.

Waldo Six-Man Team Upsets Favored Chesterville Squad

Coach Ralph Weber's Waldo gridders pulled the upset of the season last night in the Double - M League by dumping heavily-favored Chesterville 31-25. It was the first win of the season for the Marion County crew which is at the 35. Stan Yake countered making its grid debut this year.

Chesterville had been unbeaten in league play and last week had knocked Claridon from the ranks of the undefeated. The home team was a co-favorite to cop the league crown along with LaRue.

After a scoreless first quarter the game began taking its expected form as Chesterville, on the strength of strong running by Dick Perkins, forged into a 13-0 halftime lead. Perkins crossed the goal line once from the nine and once from the three-yard marker. He added his third score in the third period on a pass from Roger Craig and the final Chesterville score came on a pass from Craig to James. James also added an extra point when he took in a Perkins pass.

In the third period, Waldo began making noises. George Yake started the march by taking a pass from Keith Augenstein for the first score. Don Yake scored again in the third period on a three-yard run around end. That made the score 13-12 at the start of the final period.

Keith Augenstein broke loose for a 25-yard touchdown scamper in the final period and a few minutes later scored from the three. The winning touchdown came when George Yake took another pass from Augenstein. The play started the Marion Combix crew which is at the 35. Stan Yake countered one extra point for the Waldo squad.

Taking part in the upset for Waldo were George, Don and Howard Yake along with Smith at the ends, Klingel and Ruth at center, and Noe, Augenstein, Stan Yake and Dale Yake in the backfield.

Cardington Squad Sinks Big Walnut

CARDINGTON — Cardington upset Big Walnut 7-0 last night at the losers' field for the second win of the season for the local squad.

A double reverse and three passes carried to the Big Walnut two from where Ralph King powered his way over the line. Tom Fisher kicked the point.

CARDINGTON

Ends, Conaway, E. Shaffer, Curl, Sherwood, tackles, J. Shaffer, Ruehrmund, Salter, guards, Snyder, Pine, Hack, Wells, centers, Burggraf, Kirkendoll; backs, Kuhn, King, Coomer, Shaffer, Kirts, Sellers, Fisher.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP) — The man was really out to sell a tie to his woman customer. Mr. George Mastin said the woman inspected all the ties in the rack but none suited her. Finally, she spotted the tie the salesman was wearing. He took it off and sold it to her.

Marion Barons Facing Busy Weekend Slate

The second place Marion Barons will play a home and home series this weekend with the Grand Rapids Rockets in International Amateur Hockey League warfare.

The Barons will go after their third straight win tonight at Grand Rapids and will take the team bus right back to Marion after the game for Sunday afternoon's encounter at the Coliseum with the Rockets.

Norm Grinke, Grand Rapids playing coach, will have three high scoring veterans from last season's squad on ice. Bob Turner with 35 goals and 37 assists for 72 points will play at right wing. Phil Golden, who racked up 21 goals and 29 assists for 50 points, will hold down a center spot for the Rockets and left wing Don Crawford, who tallied eight goals in the 10 games he wore the Rocket jersey last year, will be patrolling the port side.

In addition Grinke will have goalie Doug Coxon and Defenseman Gaff Turner from last year's team.

Baron center Gordon Vejprava with five goals in three games to his credit looks like Marion's best bet for the league's scoring championship and the George H. Wilkinson Trophy which goes with it. While Marion goal tender Lou Crowdis, after last Wednesday's 5-0 shutout of the Milwaukee Chiefs and 61 league games to go, will see what he can do about breaking the league record of five registered last season by net minders Claude Evans of Cincinnati and Guy LeClerc of Troy.

Marion's kid line of Jerry Prince, Vejprava and Paul Emms has yet to be shut out in the three league games played, while the vet line of Kenny Schultz, Joe Ingoldsby and Wimpy Jones has scored in each of the two games it has played as a unit.

The Barons will not be able to rest very long after Sunday's game because they will have to make a trip to Milwaukee for a Tuesday night game against the Chiefs and come back to Marion to play the Troy Bruins Wednesday.

Bucyrus Defeated 28-0 by Whippets

BUCYRUS—Shelby's undefeated Whippets blasted Bucyrus 28-0 for its sixth win of the season before a homecoming crowd at Shelby Friday night in a Northern Ohio League clash.

The home team scored a touchdown in each of the first two periods and added two in the third. Bob Adkins got Shelby's first score with a 12-yard scamper. Fullback Ken Foreman went 39 yards for the other first half tally.

Dick Reed went 29 yards and Don Dodd intercepted a Glen Butterman pass at the Bucyrus 10 and ran it over for the other Shelby scores. Foreman plunged for all four extra points.

Bucyrus' only scoring chance came near the close of the first half. Butterman went over from one foot out but an offside penalty nullified the score and Bucyrus was unable to hit paydirt in the next play which concluded the first half.

Shelby had 10 first downs to Bucyrus' eight. In running, Shelby piled up 305 yards to Bucyrus' 102 but the losers picked up 118 yards passing, completing six of 12 attempts. Shelby tried five passes and failed to connect on any.

Bucyrus, now 2-4 for the season, tangles with Bellevue, another NOL power, next Friday there.

BUCYRUS

Rams Roll to 53-0 Win in NOL Battle

UPPER SANDUSKY — Halfback Dave Kuenzli paced Upper Sandusky's Rams to a decisive 53-0 win over Crestline here Friday night in a Northern Ohio League contest.

The 175-pound senior scored six of the Ram touchdowns and converted five of eight points after touchdowns to raise his season scoring mark to 144 points, made on 20 touchdowns and 20 conversions.

Upper Sandusky used its entire squad in running its season record to 4-2 before a Band Night crowd. Guard Keith Quail started the Rams off when he blocked a Crestline punt at the 21 and then fell on it in the end zone.

Then Kuenzli took over. He took a 15-yard pass from Dave McClain for another first period score, went five yards for another and then plunged one yard before the half ended. Kuenzli went off right tackle for 10 yards before Dan Patchet went over on a reverse from 11 yards out and then he went 20 and 4 yards for the final Ram tallies.

Upper tests its 3-2 NOL record against Norwalk here next Friday. It will mark homecoming.

Blue Devils Fall To Michigan Team

CAREY — Carey's first home game of the season here Friday night resulted in a 38-6 loss to Bedford, Mich.

The visitors, who had lost only two of their last 24 games, marked up 13 points in the opening period and increased their margin to 19-0 at the half. The winners added seven points in the third stanza and 12 in the final period.

Carey's only score came in the third quarter on a pass from James Draper to Richard Dennison. It marked the first time a Carey squad had played the Michigan school and was the losers' fifth loss in six games this season. Marion St. Mary is here Friday.

Many Make Summer Trips

Ohio Legislators Like To Take Junkets

By JAMES B. SIBBISON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Good looking stenographers and secretaries—a lot of them from Ohio—are plentiful in the offices of Ohio members of Congress.

Rep. Bill Ayres, Akron Republican, has added to the beauty average with employment of Kay Parker, a tall brunette. She is a former Dayton newspaper reporter and previously worked here for Rep. Paul Schenck, Dayton Republican.

Last year she was on the campaign staff of Charles P. Taft in his unsuccessful race for Ohio governor.

Ayres, incidentally, says its no trick this year to get a congressional "junket" assignment — that is, a trip abroad with a committee.

"Anyone who wants to can have one," says Ayres, who says he didn't want one.

Some Ohio congressmen who did go: William Hess of Cincinnati to Europe; Frank Bow of Canton to Europe and the Near East; Thomas Jenkins of Ironton to South Africa; Sen. Bricker to Central and South America.

Jack Betts of Findlay says he was dissappointed he didn't get a committee assignment this summer, but stresses he doesn't mean a junket.

"I like committee work," he explains. "I'm going on a one-man junket around Washington, seeing a lot of the government departments I've never seen."

None of Ohio's Democratic congressmen got an overseas assignment.

However, Mike Kirwan of Youngstown went to Europe with his wife on vacation, and Wayne Hays of Flushing was assigned to a special committee looking for subversives in non-profit educational foundations.

Aside from committee work, Ohio congressmen have been shaking a lot of hands back home.

Ken Harding, assistant director of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, says this is the better year to campaign for re-election.

"Next year isn't so good," says Harding. "That's an election year.

"You know how it is. A church wants a congressman to speak. Then somebody says: 'If we invite him, we'll have to have his opponent speak too.'

"So nobody gets to talk. This year, the congressman is the man with the job."

Both sides agree the two Ohio congressmen with the toughest races next year are Democrat Jim Polk of Highland and Republican Paul Schenck of Dayton. Both won last time with small percentage margins.

All of Ohio's 23 House members—except for Rep. Bender—are expected to run for re-election. Bender still is regarded as pretty sure to try for the GOP senatorial nomination.

If he does, that will leave vacant an exceedingly choice district, the 23rd, for some Republican. The GP considers Bender's territory, chiefly suburban Cleveland, about as safe as Rep. Frances P. Bolton's 22nd.

"If anything," said one Republican, "Bender's is safer."

"Man of the Week," a CBS television show, will feature Ohio's new senator-designate, Thomas A. Burke, at 3:30 p.m. EST, Sunday.

It's a news conference type of program, and Burke is coming to Washington for the telecast. One of the reporters who will interview Burke is Fletcher Knebel, former Cleveland Plain Dealer reporter now with Cowles Publications.

One of the names that keeps popping up in talk about the Ohio GOP senatorial nomination next year is that of Defense Mobilizer Arthur Flemming.

But Flemming, on leave as Ohio Wesleyan University president, says he can't figure why.

"I haven't given the matter any consideration at all," he said. "I have never been approached by anyone on the subject. I have a challenging job right where I am."

A reporter asked him if that meant he wouldn't consider running under any circumstances in next year's primary.

Flemming said he couldn't go that far.

"I can't project what I'll do in the future," he replied.

Cities Complain Of Cost of New Traffic Reports

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio cities complained today about the cost of complying with the state's new traffic accident reporting law.

U. C. Felty, chief of the state department of highway safety created to deal with traffic problems, replied that he is trying to make the reports as painless as possible.

The law that became effective Oct. 16 requires duplicate reports from enforcement officers within five days after they investigate traffic accidents. But officials complain the reports take too much time and involve too much expense.

The traffic and safety reports are separate from those required on accidents from motorists under the state's financial responsibility act.

Don Cook, Columbus safety director, said it would cost this city $50 a day to make out the new reports and send them to Felty and the state highway department as required by the new law.

Felty reported recent authorization for the City of Hamilton to use its own accident report forms instead of the state reports. He said permission was granted because Hamilton's reports closely follow forms prescribed by the National Safety Council and those used by the State Highway Patrol.

Felty said he had sent State Rep. Martin A. Lingler R—Butler, a letter for presentation to Hamilton City Council next week for the authorization.

Heavy Bonds Ordered for 2 Theft Suspects

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—Two of four persons accused of stealing $150,000 from the home of a Wheeling physician were placed under heavy bail here yesterday pending action by the grand jury.

Philip Anderson, 46, Dallas, Tex charged with armed robbery, was held under $20,000 bond. Mrs. Mary Balderson, 32, charged with armed robbery and grand larceny, was held under $15,000 bond.

The state charges Anderson and another man entered the home of Dr. W. P. Sammons Oct. 13, tied up two women, and stole the money in three boxes from Sammons' bedroom. They accuse Mrs. Balderson, a former maid at the Sammons home, of aiding the robbery and also of previously stealing $600 from one of Dr. Sammons' money boxes.

Anderson was arrested in Lima, Ohio, where it was discovered he had checked about $35,000 in a suitcase at the Railway Express Agency.

Held in Dallas, Tex., accused of being implicated in the case are Jimmy Fugitt, 34, and Harry Ward, 43, both of Dallas. Both have refused to waive extradition.

Dr. Sammons testified at yesterday's hearing he kept two of the money boxes under a dresser and the third under a bed in his third-floor bedrom. He said he didn't discover the one under the bed was missing until the day after the theft, and didn't report the third box missing until several days after that. He testified he had counted the money two weeks before the robbery.

Oil tankers are now being built to a size of about 45,000 tons.

Chrysler Corp. To Buy Briggs Body Factories

Stockholder Approval Required, Company To Pay 35 Million

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. expects to acquire all auto body and parts making plants of the Briggs Manufacturing Co. within the next 60 days for 35 million dollars.

President L. L. Colbert of Chrysler said officials of both firms already have agreed on the purchase, but that approval yet must be obtained from Briggs stockholders.

Briggs' 12 major plants in the Detroit area normally employ from 35,000 to 40,000 and its acquisition by Chrysler will make Chrysler the largest employer in the Detroit area with 130,000 to 140,000. Ford, now the largest, has 100,000 to 110,000.

Chrysler is not acquiring the Briggs Beautyware division, which makes plumbing and kitchen fixtures.

Colbert said, however, Chrysler plans to acquire all principal plants of Briggs, plus machinery and equipment.

Briggs Manufacturing Co., was founded by the late Walter O. Briggs Sr., who died Jan. 17, 1952. He also was owner of the Detroit Tigers of the American League. W. O. (Spike) Briggs Jr., now is president of the Tigers. He resigned as a Briggs vice-president last May.

Briggs makes all Plymouth bodies for Chrysler and also produces Packard's bodies, as well as both automobile and airplane parts and assemblies.

A Packard spokesman said Chrysler's purchase of Briggs would have no immediate effect upon Packard.

When rumors of the purchase developed some time ago, he said that Packard president, James J. Nance contacted both Briggs and Chrysler and was assured Packard would be supplied bodies until it could work out a new agreement with Chrysler or make other arrangements.

ANNIE ROONEY By Darrell McClure

GOLLY, ZERO—WHEN MR. COBB HAS TO FIX A RICH MAN'S SWELL, FANCY SHOES HE CHARGES A SWELL, FANCY PRICE FOR FIXIN' THEM—
AN' IF YOU GOT KINDA CHEAP SHOES THAT WORE OUT WORKIN' AWFUL HARD IN THEM, HE FIXES THEM UP GOOD FOR A CHEAP PRICE—
AN' IF YOU'RE TERRIBLE POOR AN' YOUR SHOES ARE FULL OF HOLES SO BIG HE CAN'T FIX 'EM, HE GIVES YOU A PAIR OF SHOES FOR NOTHIN' IF YOU AIN'T GOT ANY MONEY—
I TOLD MR. COBB HE WAS SWELL, TO GIVE CHARITY TO POOR PEOPLE— BUT HE SAYS IT'S GOOD BUSINESS, 'CAUSE IF FOLKS WALKED AROUND WITHOUT ANY SHOES ALL THE COBBLERS WOULD STARVE TO DEATH—
